KATIE McNABB

Katie,

You have been a good friend to me and I will always remember it. Maybe we'll run into each other this summer and we can go to the Mall or something.
Good luck with the guys and stay out of trouble. Thanks for listening to my problems with Phillip.

Love You,

Together Til' The End

This year started off with mass confusion because of all the construction happening when we returned. The remodeling is enlarging the gym and the high school offices. Even a new elementary school is being built. The need for more classroom space is a must. This year the kindergarten has been separated from us and meets at the Assembly of God Church. Since the front area has to be fenced off for safety reasons, we have to walk clear around the building from the student parking lot just to get in the doors. When the changes are complete, we will not only save our legs from walking but also make our school that much better. The only change we look toward with sadness is the splitting of elementary and high school. This is the last year we will be together sharing one building; but our Aubrey spirit will always bind our thoughts together no matter what the distance in miles.

S* is for the Spirit in our school and in our hearts

T* is for the Times we've shared together or apart

I* is for the Importance of friendship, love and learning

C* is for the Countless times we've felt frustration burning

K* is for the memories we'll Keep in our hearts and minds

I* is for the Intelligence we try to improve and find

N'* is for the Never ending problems we've tried to make better

Through it all, we all stood tall and we made it Together

Everyone has patience while the construction work is being finished.

Tawni Bennett and Mandy Laufman finish getting ready for school before the bell rings.

STICKIN' TOGETHER IN . . .

Tiffany Brockett just can't seem to stay off the phone.

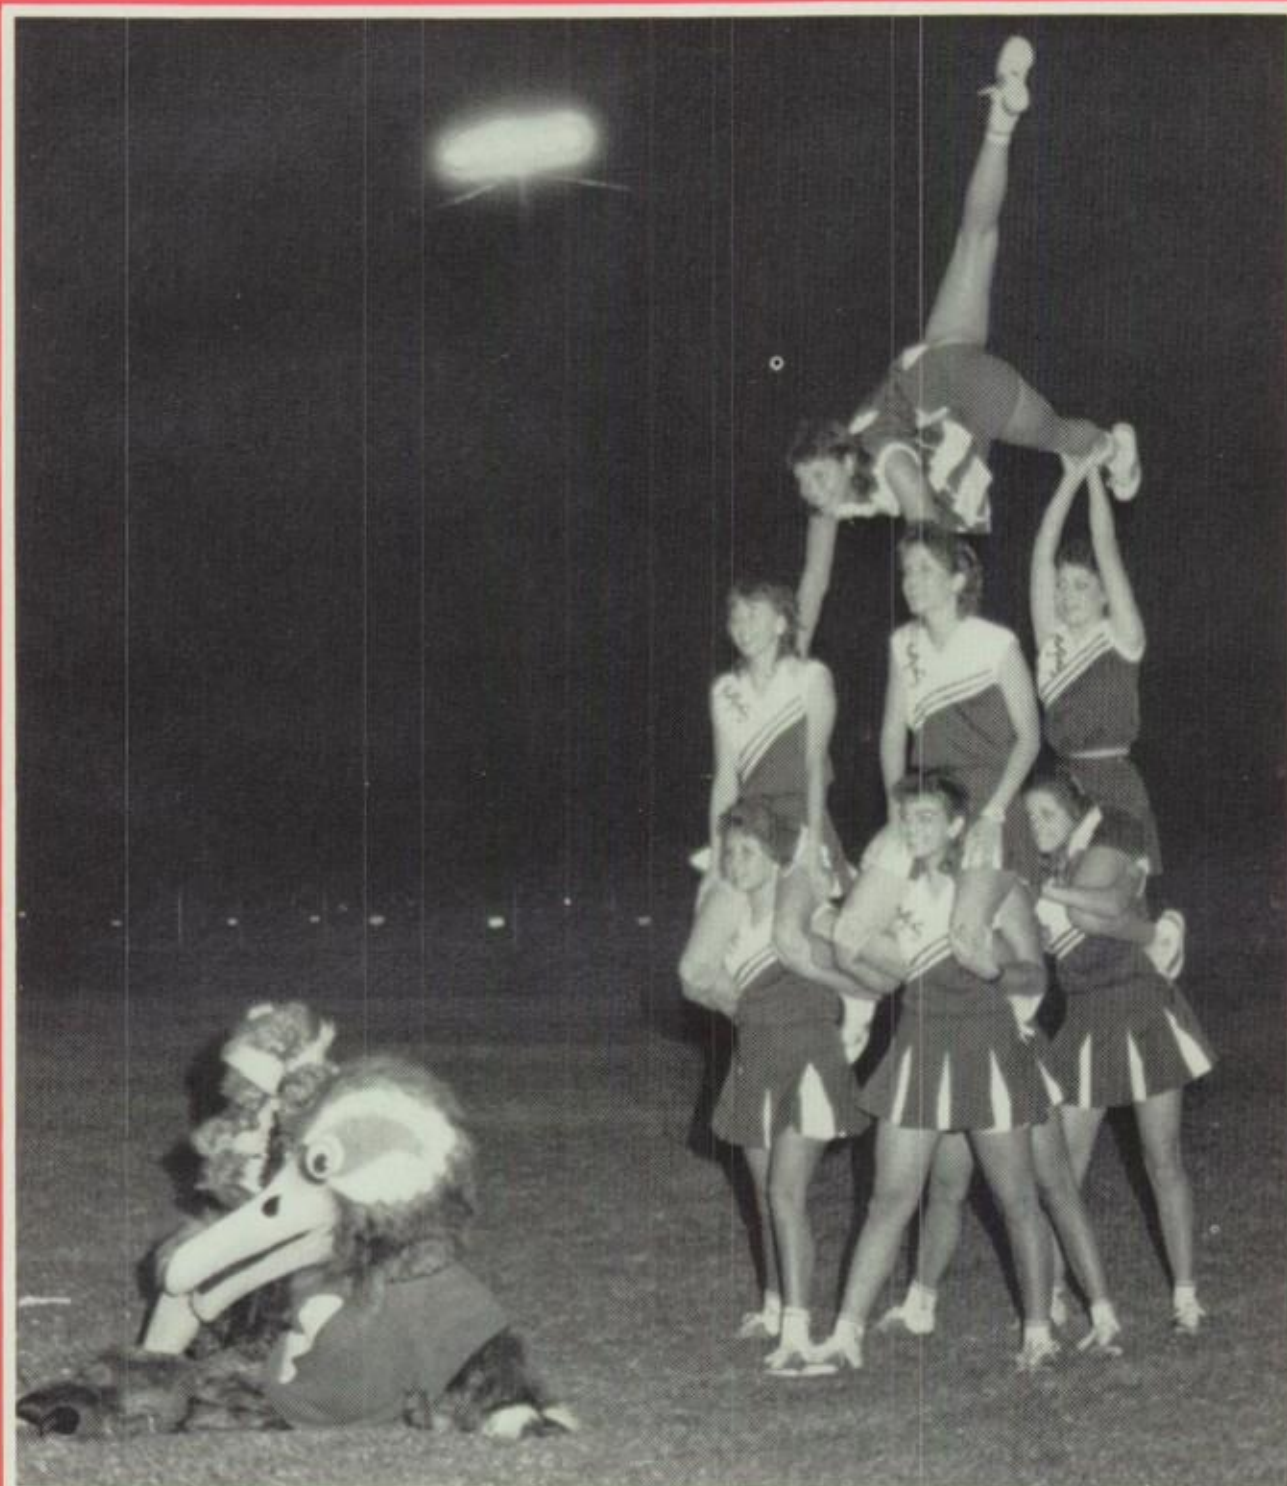

Senior Kelly Laufman shows her spirit by letting everyone know that the Chaps are #1!

BIRDS OF A FEATHER . . .

The Cheerleaders can really pep up the crowds with this wonderful pyramid.

Stick-Together!

At Aubrey High School this year, the biggest spirit bomb dropped wasn't dropped by a bird, but was a bird! Namely the new mascot purchased by the 1985 Student Council as a school gift.

More affectionately known as "The Bird", senior Kelly Laufman was the first lucky person to wear the costume. It was decided that the alternate varsity cheerleader should have the honor, and what a great job this first alternate has done. Several people have commented about how much of a crowd pleaser she is and about how she does her zany stunts with the band.

Of course, Kelly isn't the only one around the school who ruffles the Chaparral fan's feathers, there are also the cheerleaders, drill team, flag corps, and band who do their share. One game in particular where our spirit held us strong was the Pilot Point rivalry game. We tied the Bearcats 14-14 for the first time in ten years. A few of the Chaparral fans almost fell out of their nests at this game. Junior Russ Skinner commented after the game, "I'll go to sleep with this smile on my face!" Of course he should be proud, because when the pressure is on, these Birds of a Feather- STICK TOGETHER!

The Drill team gets roused up as the Chaparrals make another winning play.

Teresa McBride asks, "Does my hair look O.K.?", as Tony Byrom mutters "Women!", under his breath.

Eric Burch is so tired from football practice that he leans on Judy Brooks' shoulder for support.

Robbie Sorrell gives Martha Garza a rose to wear in her hair at the Homecoming ceremony.

BACK TOGETHER AGAIN

Homecoming 1986

The King and Queen are given a special ride by Marion Brockett in his fancy old car.

Homecoming week snuck up silently on most people, but exploded Monday night with a roaring bonfire. All through the week students and teachers dressed up to show their spirit. The parade ended the school time ceremonies. Later that night, the first homecoming victory ever at Aubrey was celebrated with the traditional dance.

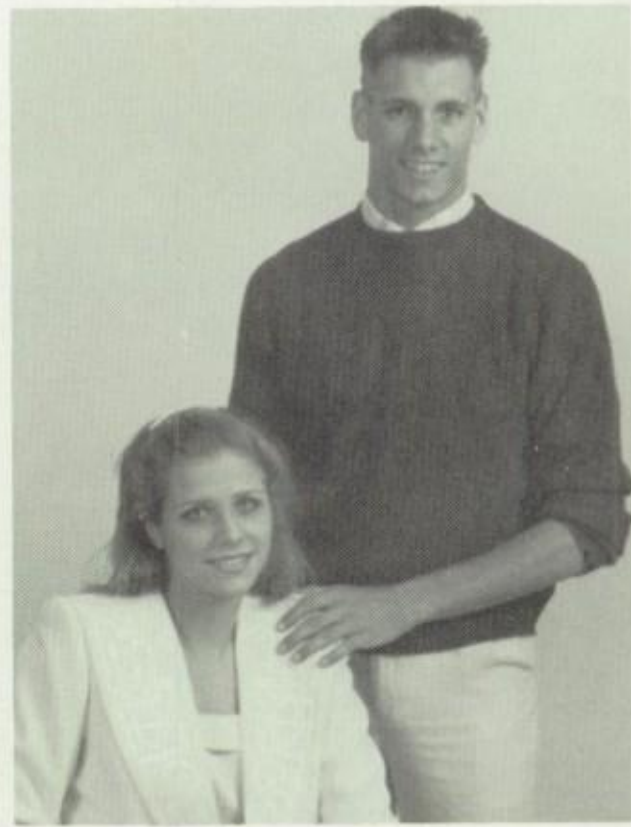

At the pre-game ceremonies, for the first time, we had to have four senior nominees because of a tie. The King and Queen, Danny Bridges and Belinda Starr were presented by last year's Queen, Robin Hurst. There was also a special group of people at the game, the graduating class of 1976, who were all in town for their ten year reunion. It was a great week for all, and it was great to be back together in 1986.

The Freshman Princess and Prince were Jill Skinner and Matt Bowman. They both seem a little anxious about Jill pinning his corsage on.

Prince and Princess for the Sophomore class were Regale Foutch and Daryl Hellman. "Don't move Daryl or I'll strangle you with this tie" says Regale.

Kelly Moore and Billy Fields were just plain all smiles as the Junior class Prince and Princess.

FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE . . .

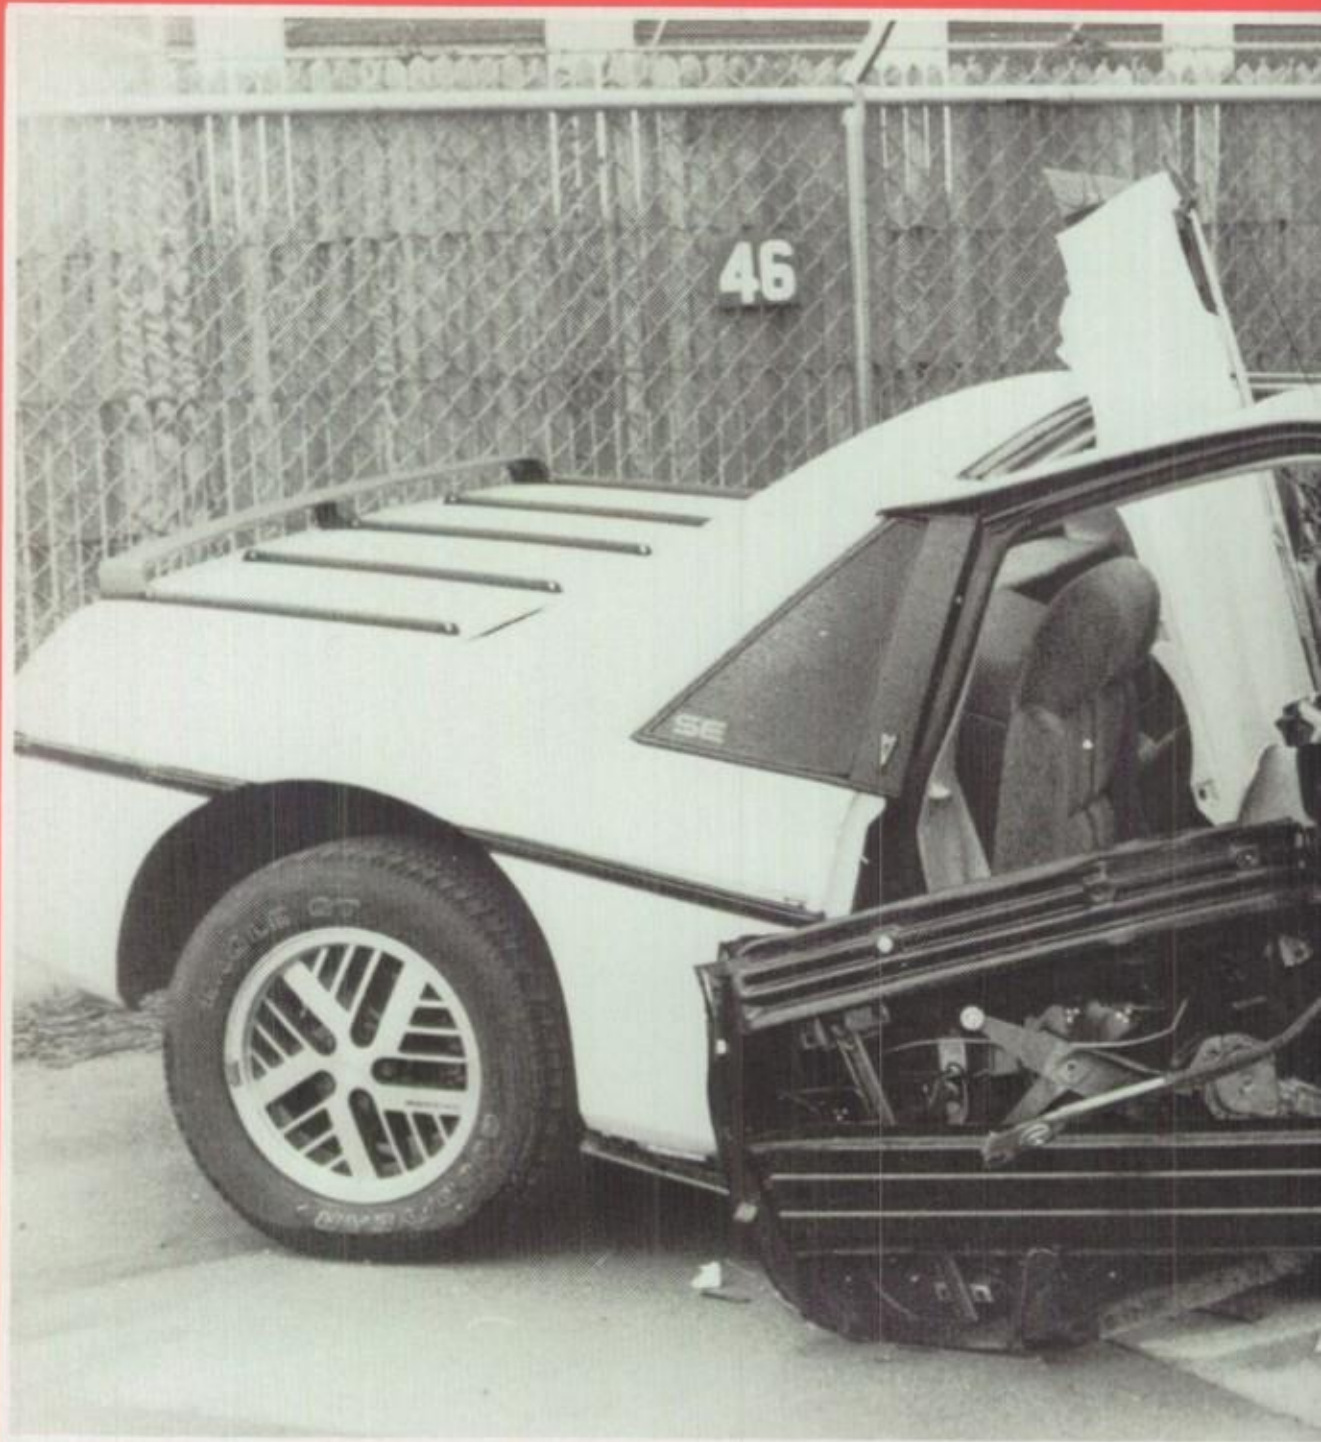

Have you ever wondered how certain people get around (even around the block) in the junky old clunkers that they drive? Maybe you wonder how you get around in the bomb that you drive! Or, maybe you're one of the lucky ones who has a brand new set of wheels that the whole school admires. Which ever one you are, you know that you will always have some kind of sentimental feelings for your first car, good or bad.

Lots of people have "affectionate" names for their cars. Some of those names will be mentioned in the captions; but, some people have names for their cars that can't be mentioned! Either way most people realize that some wheels are better than no wheels at all.

Then there is the more serious side of driving concerning teenagers. This, of course, is the possibility of accidents. No matter how unpleasant the thought, everyone in this age group must face the fact that every time we drive we are taking on a big responsibility. Even though most of us think that it could never happen to us, the possibility of having a wreck is very likely. There have been at least two very serious wrecks in our high school alone this year. Both students involved thought it would never happen to them.

For better or for worse, we must realize that having our own car has its pros and cons. Our first cars will hold some of the best memories of our high school years.

Does everyone recognize this truck, it looks a little better with only one color of paint on it, doesn't it Brian Owens!

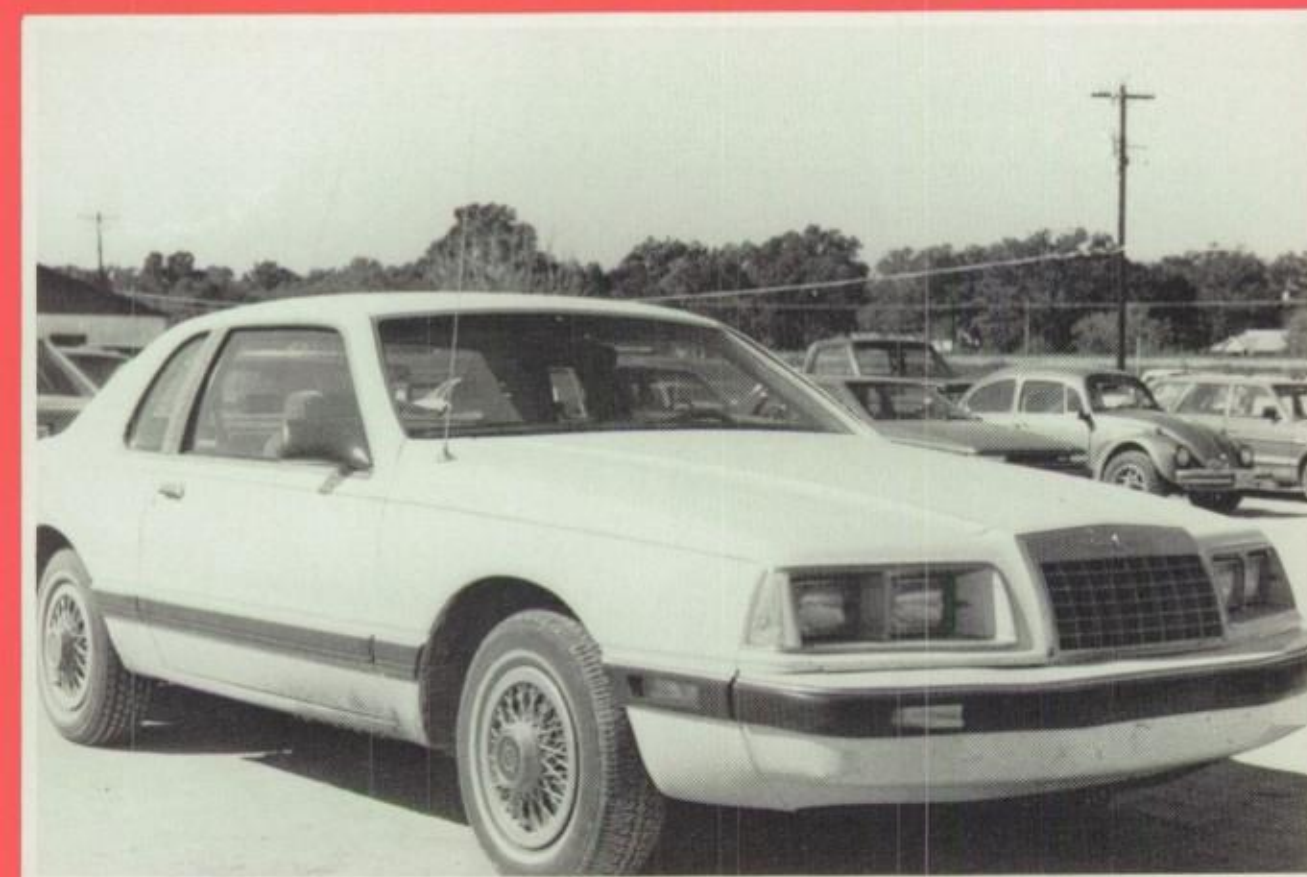

Our First Cars

Kathy and Diane Davis play mechanic when their "TWEETIE BUG" has a "wittle" problem getting started in the mornings!

Darrel Morris's new car didn't come easy, he worked all summer to pay for it!

MAKIN' THE GRADE

Isn't Always Easy

Have you ever wondered what happens to students who don't finish their homework? What happens if they forget to study for a test? Well, sometimes they end up in detention, or if the person is involved in sports they may not get to play for six weeks.

This is because of the "no-pass no-play" bill. To avoid these consequences some students get "quick answers" from other students before class. Sometimes there are even those who get answers during class!

Ann Bell and Jason Lantrip review answers on a test while Mrs. Fuller helps Tia Foster.

"Ha ha, Mrs. Brown. I told you I'd pass!", says David Millican.

Kris Foutch and Doug Cundiff study hard in tutorials with Coach Norris.

"Hurry! I've got Spanish next period," says Sherry Mega to Kerrick Lindsey.

COMIN' THROUGH The

Big State Of Texas

After a long day of riding the "pioneers" settle down at a quiet camp site.

1986 was the 150th birthday of the state of Texas. There were celebrations taking place all over the state. The spirit of Texas showed through by many actions which they performed, one of which was the wagon train. It began in Sulfer Springs and wound all through the state until it reached its destiny, Ft. Worth. Some of the students from Aubrey were a part of this grand celebration. One of these is Phillip Elrod. He stated, "It was different, slow and kind of bumpy. It took a day just to get from Denton to Pilot Point!"

Phillip, Jeffery and Shelley Elrod are enjoying being part of the wagon train.

LOVE BINDS US

Forever

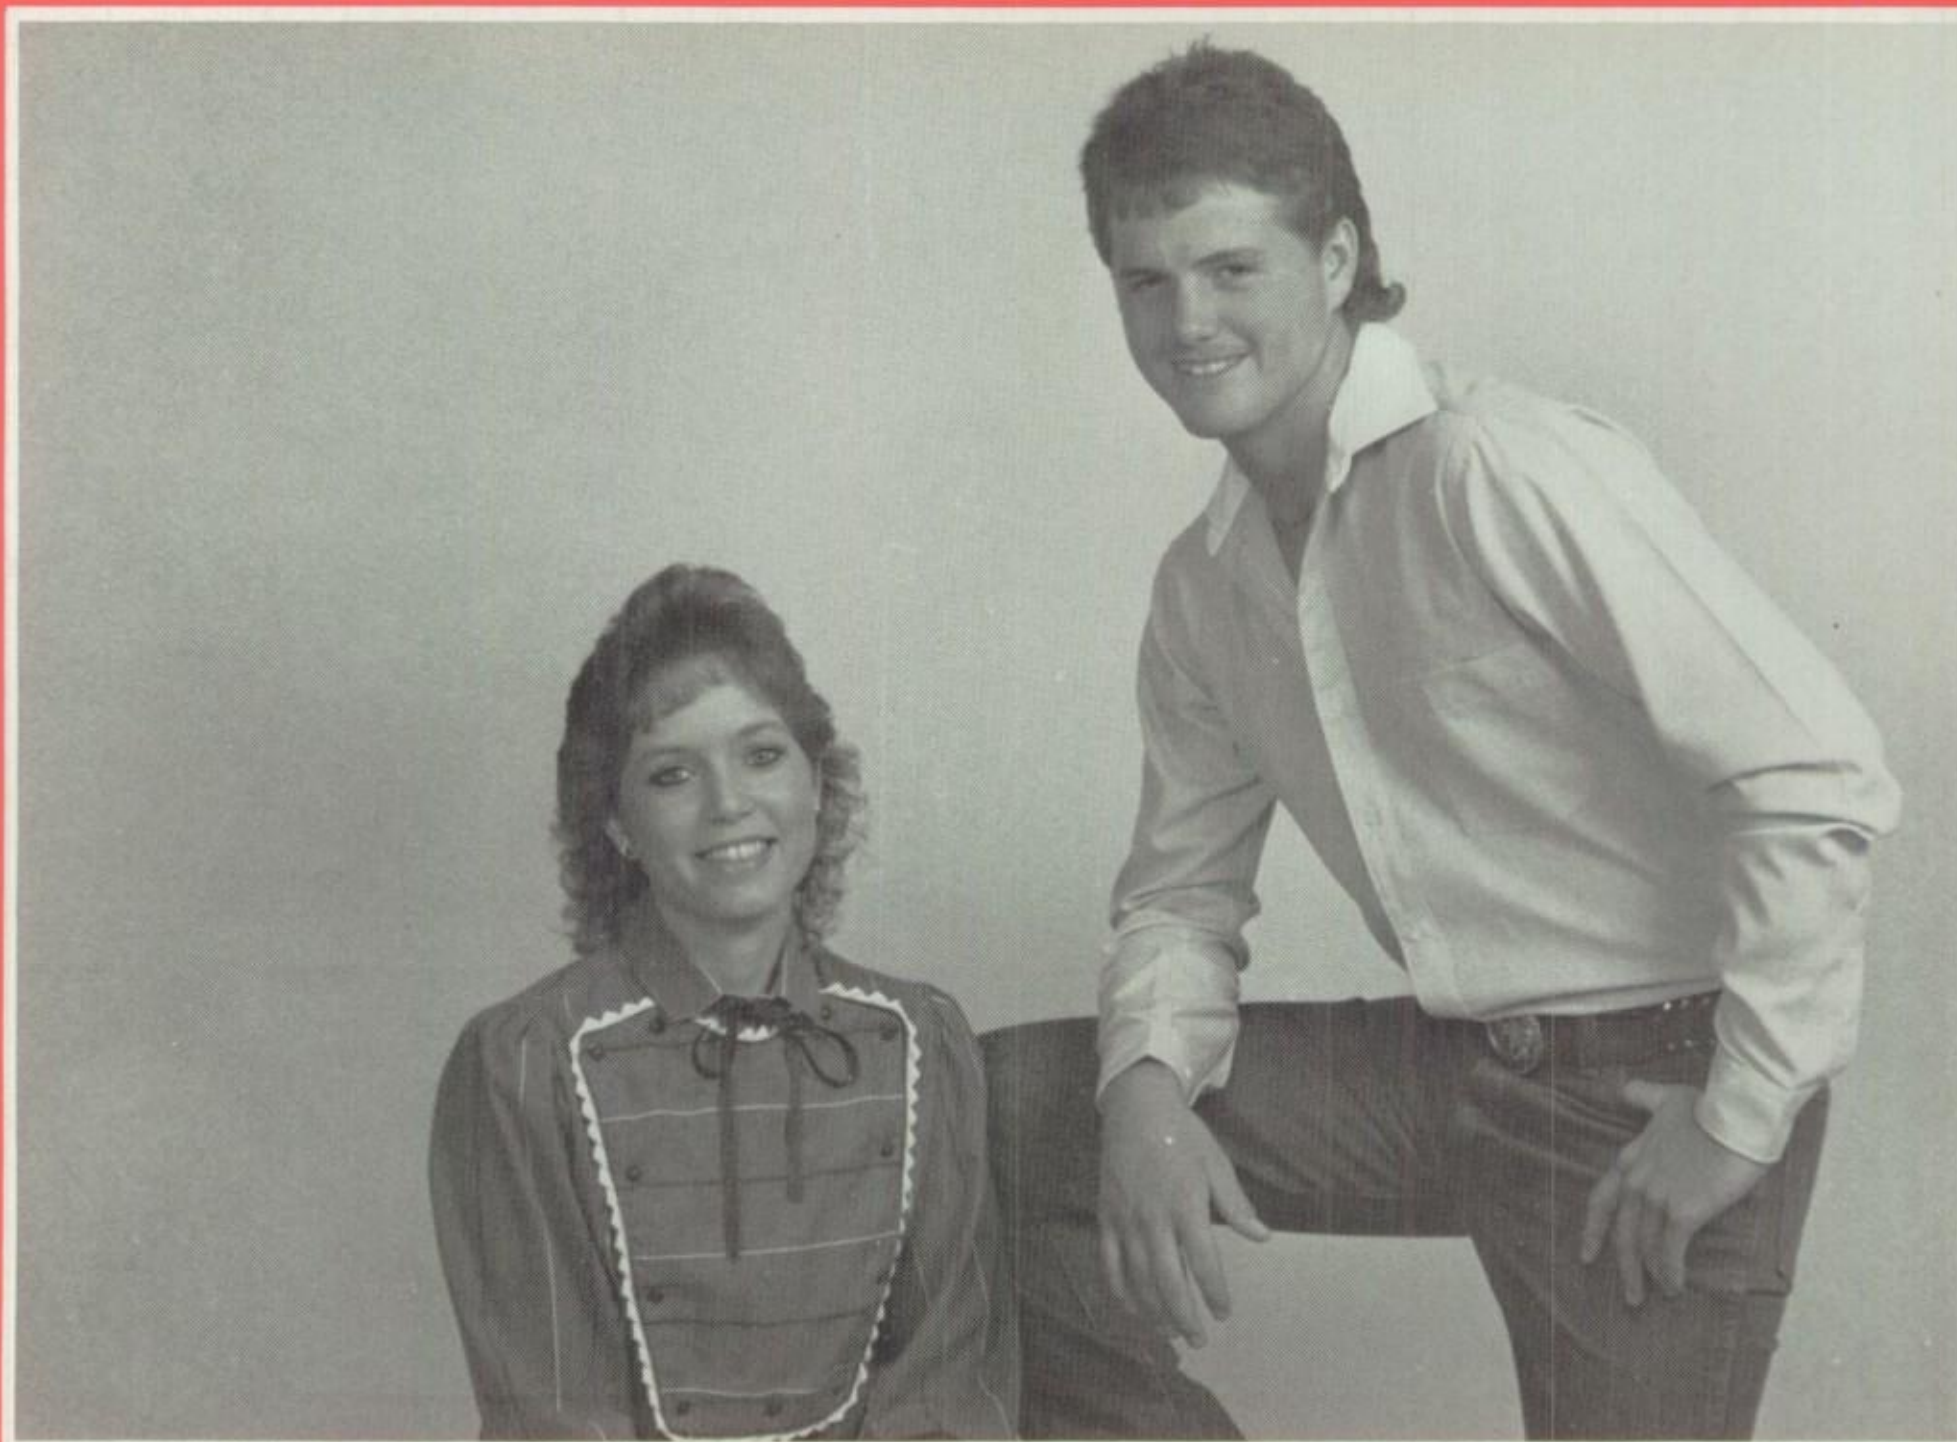

Getting nominated for Sweetheart or Beau for any organization is quite an honor. FFA Sweetheart, Kathy Beard, said, "I was surprised that I got nominated since it was my first year in FFA." FFA Beau, Russ Skinner, has been involved in this organization for three years.

The Sweetheart of the FHA Club, Tia Foster, is a first-year member. Beau, Tony Byrom, has been a part of FHA since his Junior year.

H.E.R.O. is another group that votes to give this award to two of its members. The initials stand for Home Economics Related Occupations. The Sweetheart of this half-day work program is Lerae Starr. She is employed at the Pilot Point Sale Barn Cafe and is in her second year as a H.E.R.O. member. Danny Bridges, the Beau, is working at Regional Enterprises. This year is his first year in the H.E.R.O. organization.

Kathy Beard and Russ Skinner received the Beau and Sweetheart honors for FFA.

RINGS & THINGS

At Aubrey, "togetherness" is not an unfamiliar word. The sight of couples waltzing down the halls is very common. Everywhere you seem to look guys and girls are talking and often sneaking a hug. When a guy and girl are together, they want everyone to know. There are a lot of different ways and things to show it. Affection is shown in many different ways. Some guys give their girlfriends their class rings. Other guys give their special girl their letter jacket. The elaborate mums and boutineers couples exchange during homecoming is another affectionate gesture. Believe it or not, some guys are even gentlemen enough to carry their girlfriends books for them.

Pete Kuzov and Heather Squires have been together over a year, although they are not old enough to exchange rings, they can still wear each others pins.

David Biggs proudly gives Deborah Bono a beautiful homecoming mum.

Bill Russell has an "extraordinary" ring, he wears it in his ear!

A ring is definately a gesture of love and care.

Jim Faught kindly lends Heather Gheen his jacket so she won't freeze in Mrs. Pollard's accounting class.

Belinda Starr, Holly Mackey and Renee King excitedly check out Teresa McBride's engagement ring.

This year's band sweetheart and beau were David Biggs and Deborah Bono.

Football sweetheart and beau for 1987 were Kelly Moore and Sean Needum.

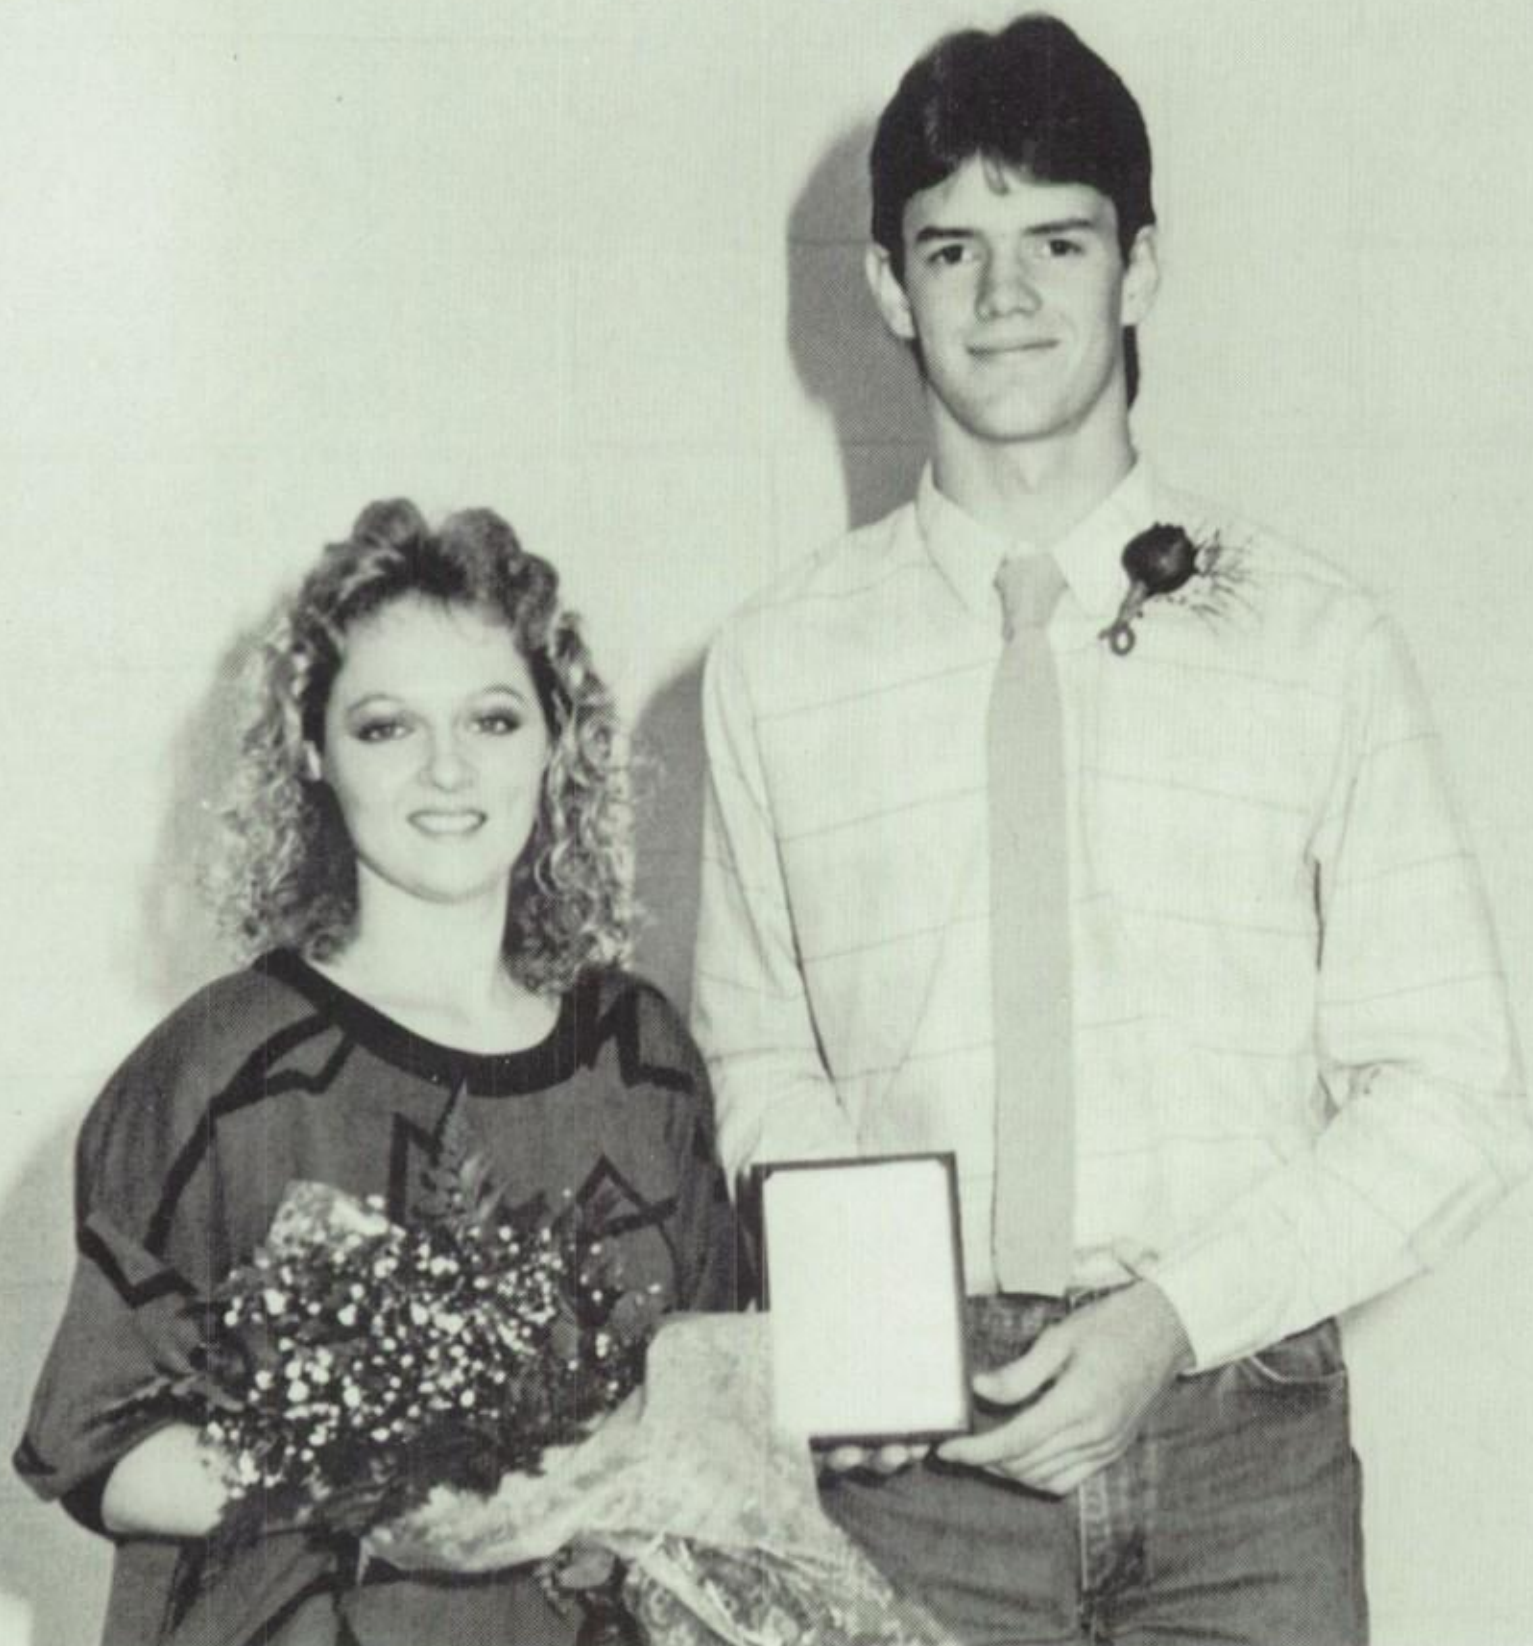

Mr. and Mrs. AHS nominees: Lerae Starr, Eric Burch, and Teresa McBride nervously wait for the announcement.

Shana Foster tries not to laugh as Brian Owens gets poked fun of for carrying 'crip' Brenna Bincsik's flowers. Shana and Brian were also nominees.

MR. & MS. AHS 1986-87

Honoring Them All Together

On these two pages, there are some very special people; people who have been honored by their peers in a very special way. They have been elected for places of recognition and represent different organizations or even the whole school. We know how much of a honor it is to be elected by our peers, and we would like to congratulate these and hope they'll never forget the honors they received together.

Jim Faught and Brenna Bincsik are Mr. and Ms. AHS for 1986-87.

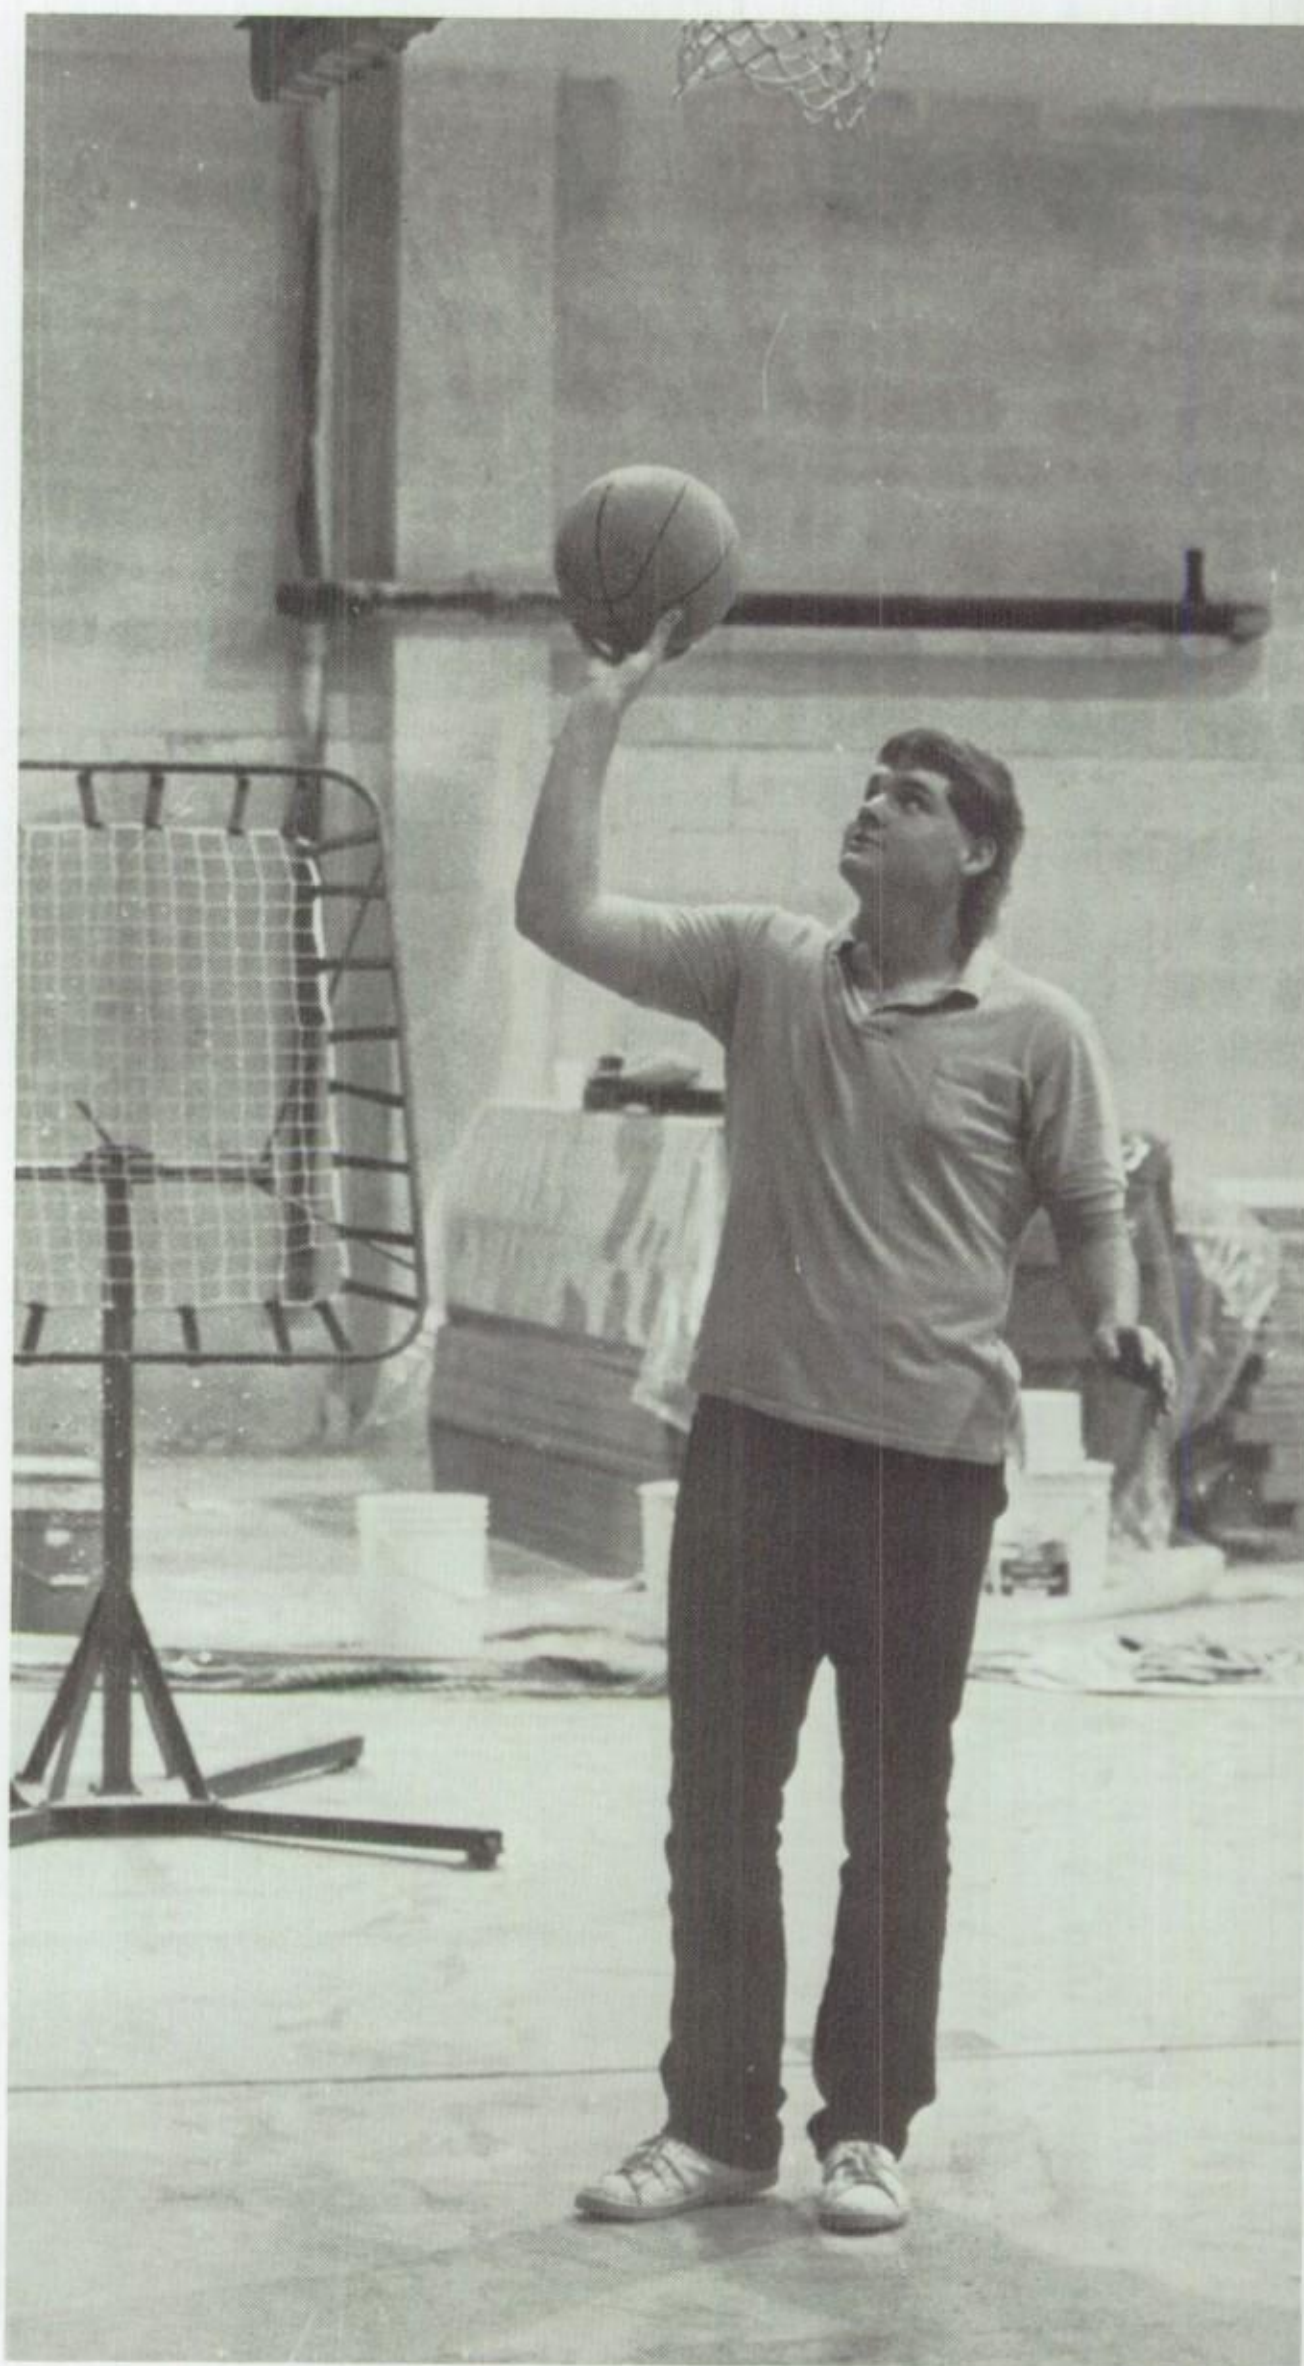

FRIENDS FOREVER...

This has been one of those year that won't soon be forgotten by most who attended Aubrey. Everywhere one looked there was either a bulldozer or a dirt pile. Construction work was taking place all over the busy campus. The front entrance of the school was one of the many remodeling jobs being done. This caused students who parked in the parking lot to walk almost all the way around the school just to get inside.

Another big job was the reconstruction of our gym. The athletes were able to use it occasionally, but other times they had to hold practices elsewhere. Still, the building that caught everyone's eye was the new elementary school. Having the elementary in a separate building won't be easy getting used to. We will miss these little people, but they will be our friends forever.

Phillip Elrod tries desperately for two points in the midst of all the construction.

This is what we had to go through just to get more space.

But Not Together

The elementary kids are spending their last year in company with the high school.

"Is this the place where I'm supposed to spend my future?", asks Scott Nelsen.

This will be the last year everyone has to walk to their classroom in the rain.

NEW STYLES BEGIN . . .

Remember bobby socks, poodle skirts, bell-bottomed pants, afro hairdo's, and penny loafers? They have all been fads in fashion that have either faded away completely or have been reappearing over the years in one form or another. There will always be fads in fashion, and here at Aubrey the new styles sneak in quietly and almost overnight they catch on. This year, some of the big fads are with hairdo's and shirts. The guys wear a strange haircut that looks like an eagle from the side, and the girls are wearing a new hair clip called a "banana". One of the biggest fads in clothing that the girls are wearing is the "big sweaters". They are sort-of a mix between a boyfriend sweater and a dress! Of course, being out in the country, there is one style that has remained the same over the years, and several students at Aubrey dress this way often. It is, of course the western style. Ropers, Wranglers, and a polo-style shirt make up a traditional outfit of this style. So, even though there is always going to be room for changes in styles and fashion, there will still be the select few that keep this age old fashion going strong. Let the new styles begin, but the western tradition will hang in!

Big Sweaters were really "in" this year, and it seems like these girls can get really comfortable in the halls with them on!

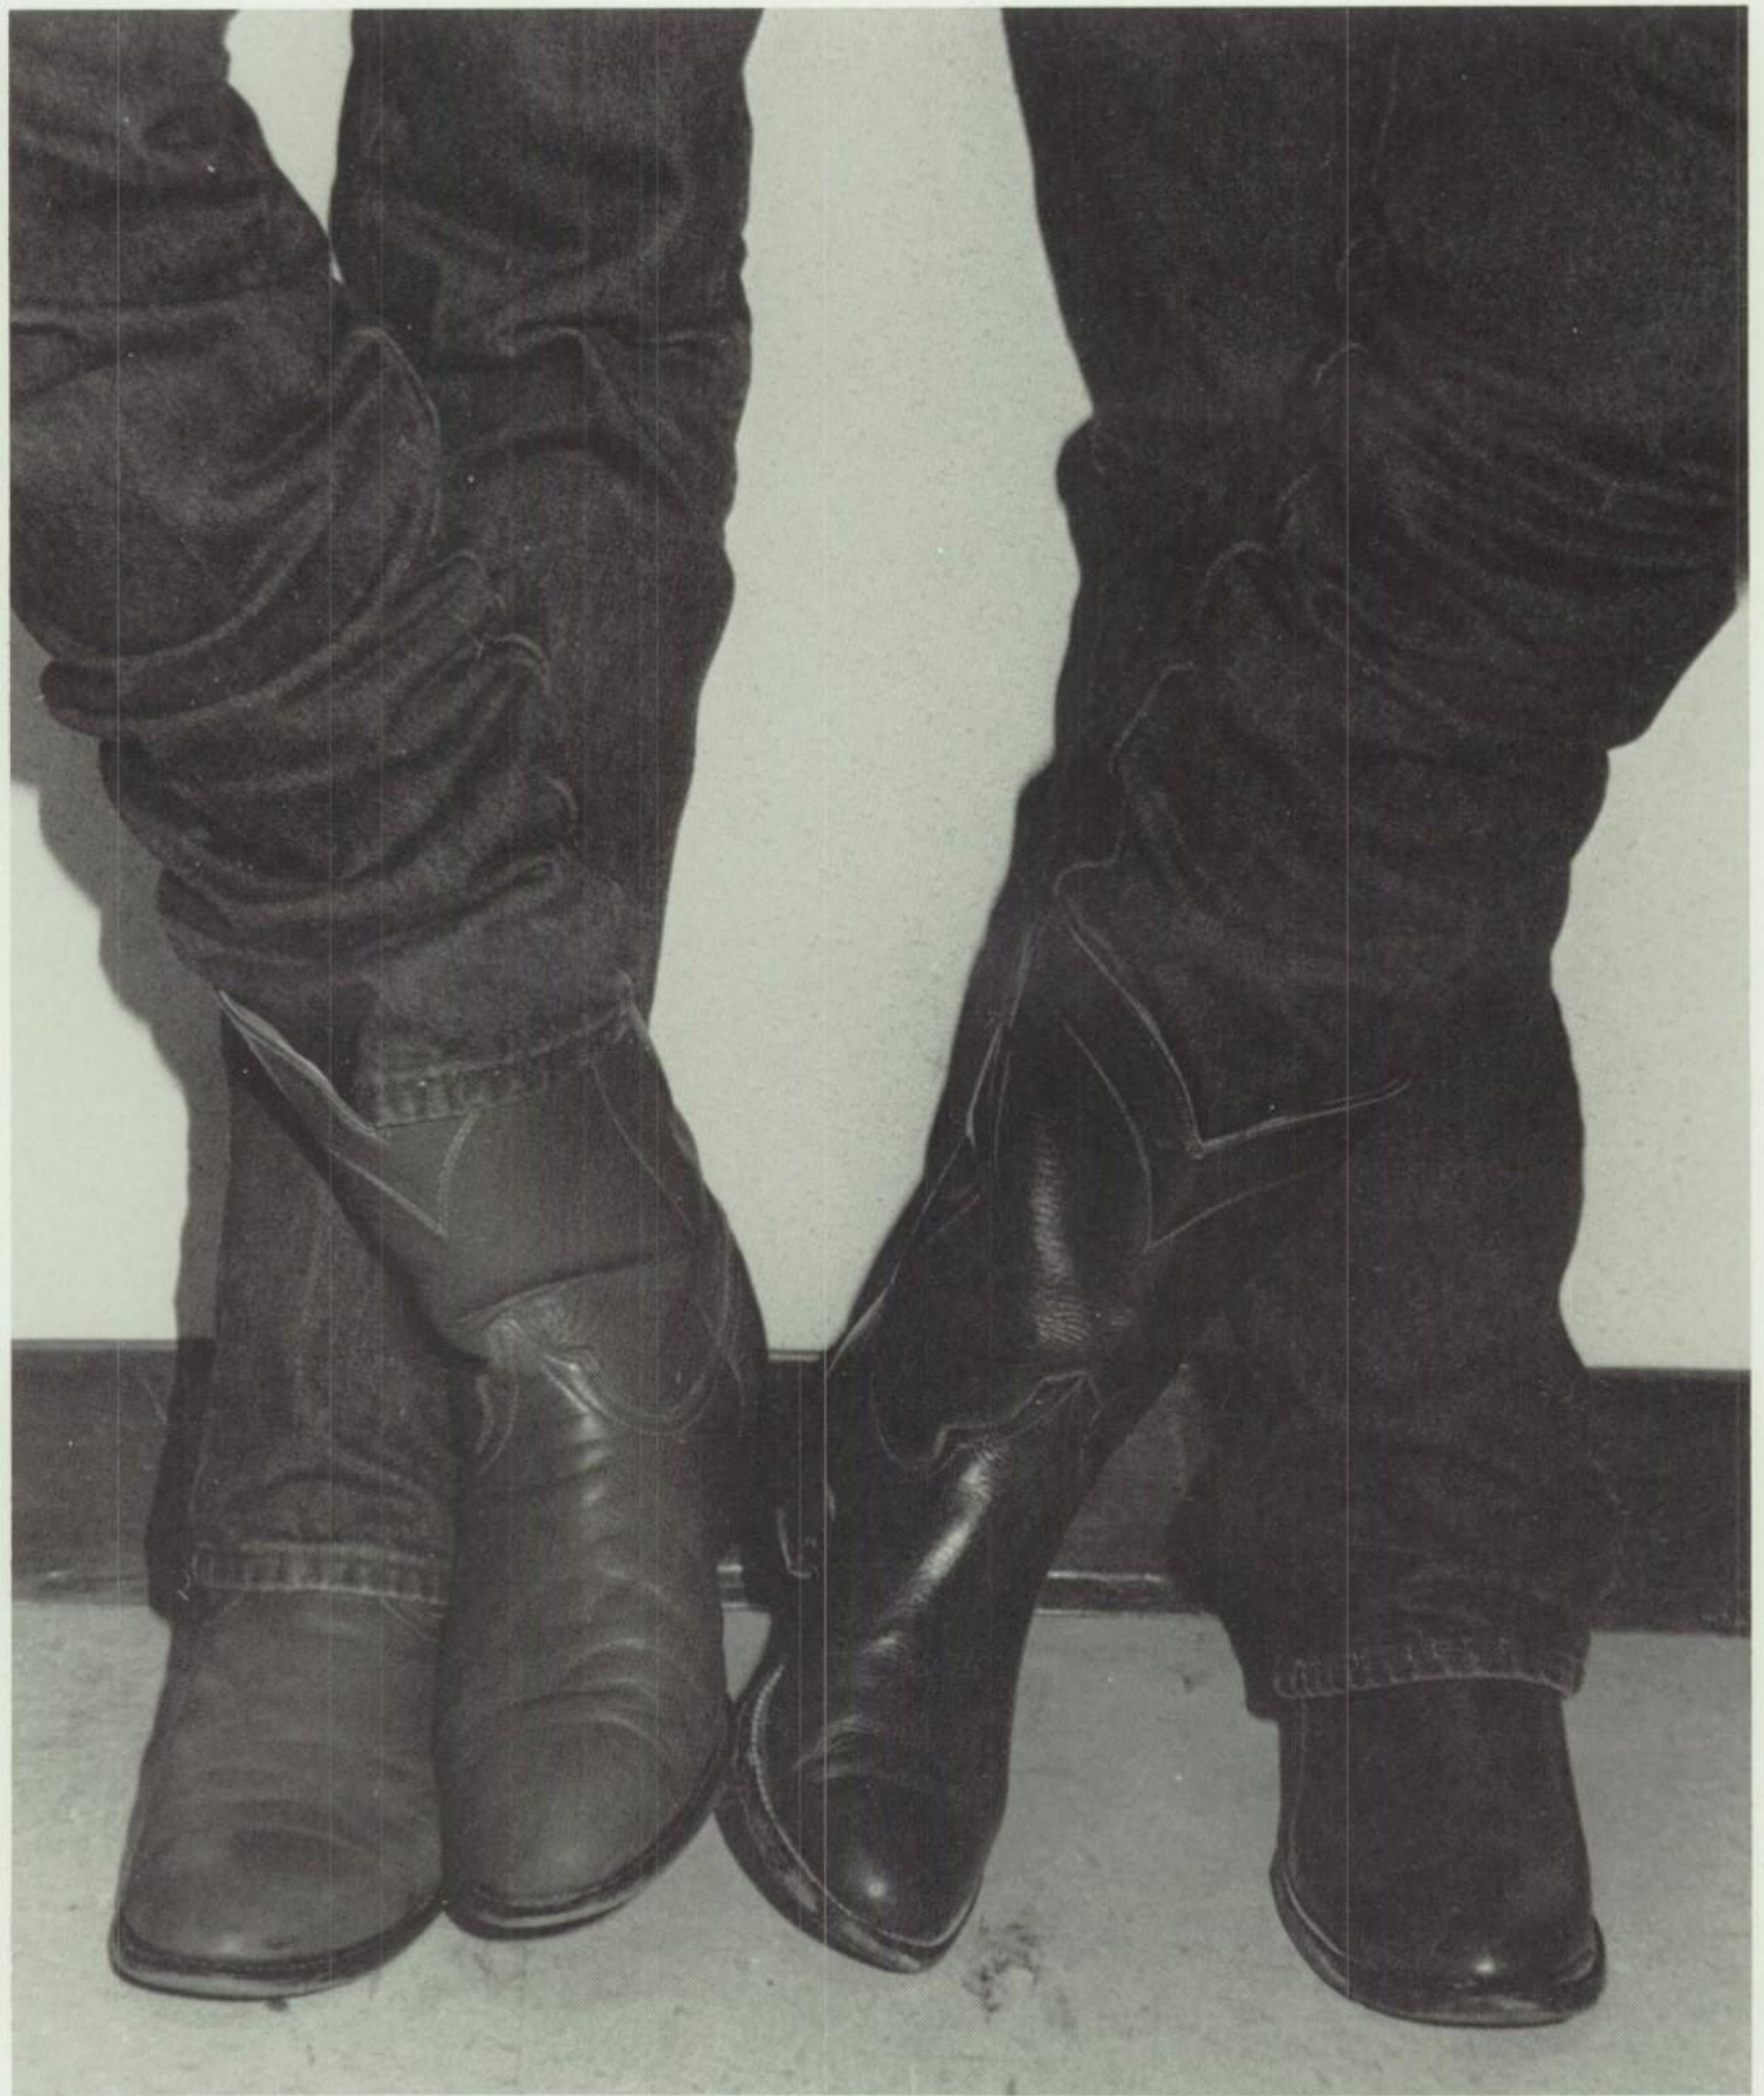

Banana Clips were also in style this year. The girls would wear them in their hair no matter what the length, and it makes their hair look like it's french braided from the front.

On cold winter days, even the guys would wear colorful scarves to keep warm! What a bunch!

The traditional ropers will most likely never go out of style here at Aubrey.

But Tradition Hangs In

WORKING SIDE BY SIDE

Carnival time this year was quite different from previous years. It started at 1:30 on Saturday and was over at 6:00. This was quite a change from the week long fling we all used to look forward to a few years ago. But, because of state bills, we can only spend so much time out of classes. Even though it is now only a one day affair, we all enjoy working side by side at carnival time.

STAYIN' CLOSE And

Do you remember being in elementary school? It seemed like everything was all numbers and letters and silly games like "step on a crack". The world seemed brand new and exciting, and the teachers always had neat things for us to do during the holidays like making turkeys out of our hands and carving pumpkins. Mrs. West, a second grade teacher, whose students carved pumpkins said, "For a lot of children it's the first jack-o-lantern they've ever made. Even though it's icky and messy, it's fun!"

And, do you remember the "big" fights you and your friends would get into? "She's my best friend!", or "He's my boyfriend!", or "Don't copy my picture, draw your own!" To us these things were some of the most important issues of our lives.

But, most of all, do you remember how much you looked up to those "big seniors", or any other high schooler? They seemed bigger than life, like they could do anything they wanted, and they could sure make you think they knew exactly what was going on all the time. Well, surprise! They didn't! They didn't even realize that they had little fans running around trying to imitate their every move, just like most of us don't realize it now. If we just look around, there are several little kids out there who want to be just like one of us when they get into high school. Now if we realized that these cute little kids are there, we still have something else we need to realize: that we have a very big responsibility! They don't just want to be like us, they want to be exactly like us. That means we need to set good examples for them to follow and try to make them feel special.

These kids are some of the biggest supporters of our school, and this will be their last year in the same building with the high school. We will miss these kids who have stood behind us all these years, and even though they may be in another building, we hope they'll stick close.

ORGANIZATIONS

TOGETHER WE FORM A TEAM

Aubrey Student Council officers and representatives are chosen by their peers to speak on the students' behalf on important school issues. The Student Council is known to cooperate in the best interest of the Aubrey Student Body. Student Council members work hard to make school even more enjoyable. The Council works on many activities throughout the year. Homecoming is one of the big events. The theme of the Homecoming dance was "Danger Zone." There were several activities throughout Homecoming week. Many participated in Punk Day, 50's Day, Western Day, Inside-Out Day, and School Colors Day. All in all, Aubrey Student Council is successful in uniting our Student Body.

HOLDING ON TO EXCELLENCE IN 1987

Honor students who have an 88 average in their required courses are eligible for Beta Club. Once in, they must maintain an 85 average with no grade below 80. The officers this year are: President, Tawni Bennett; Vice President, Tiffany Brockett; Secretary, Angela Ivy; and Treasurer, Brian Owens. The main event of the year is the state convention. It was held in Ft. Worth, January 16-17. The fourteen members that went, arrived Friday afternoon. They attended a general session that night and two sessions Saturday. They had planned to leave Sunday, but due to bad weather they left late Saturday night. The members were not very happy about that. In the spring, the Beta Club has an initiation of new members and a field trip.

New members are: (top row)-J. Lantrip, C. Campbell, H. Mackey (2nd row)-T. Foster, J. Skinner, K. McNabb, (3rd row)-J. Leek, J. Lu-

Together At The Top

Jr. Beta Club is at the top! Beta Club is an organization of achievement, character and leadership. Membership is not just due to grades; good citizenship and leadership qualities are also important. The grade requirements for Jr. Beta are the same as for Sr. Beta. Jr. Beta's two main activities are the initiation of new members and the spring field trip to the Omni Theater with the Sr. Beta Club. This year years officers are: Aimee Self, President; Julie Lantrip, Vice President; Jamie Ellis, Secretary; Greg McCray, Treasurer; Brad Brunner, Reporter. Mrs. Pyke is the sponsor for both the Jr. and Sr. Beta Club.

The 7th grade members are: (top row)-J. Schon, D. Green, C. Seber, S. McNabb, (2nd row)-R. Bratton, C. Hill, K. Byrom, A. Miller, J. Brown (3rd row)-S.

New Jr. Beta members are: (top to bottom)-Serena Self, Elissa Burch, and Jacob Carr.

Jr. Beta Club President Almee Self gives Jason Leslie some information on Jr. Beta.

CLOSER THAN EVER . . .

The Drama Club had many activities going this year. Ms. Stark, Drama Club sponsor, directed three play productions. The first play was "Frankenstein: A Monster Play", performed during the Halloween season. The second was a Christmas play named "The Baddest Angel Band". The third production was their contest play called "The Oldest Living Graduate". All members were ready to lend a hand to all the club's endeavors. This year they were CLOSER THAN EVER.

THE COMPUTER CLUB IS STICKIN' IT OUT . . .

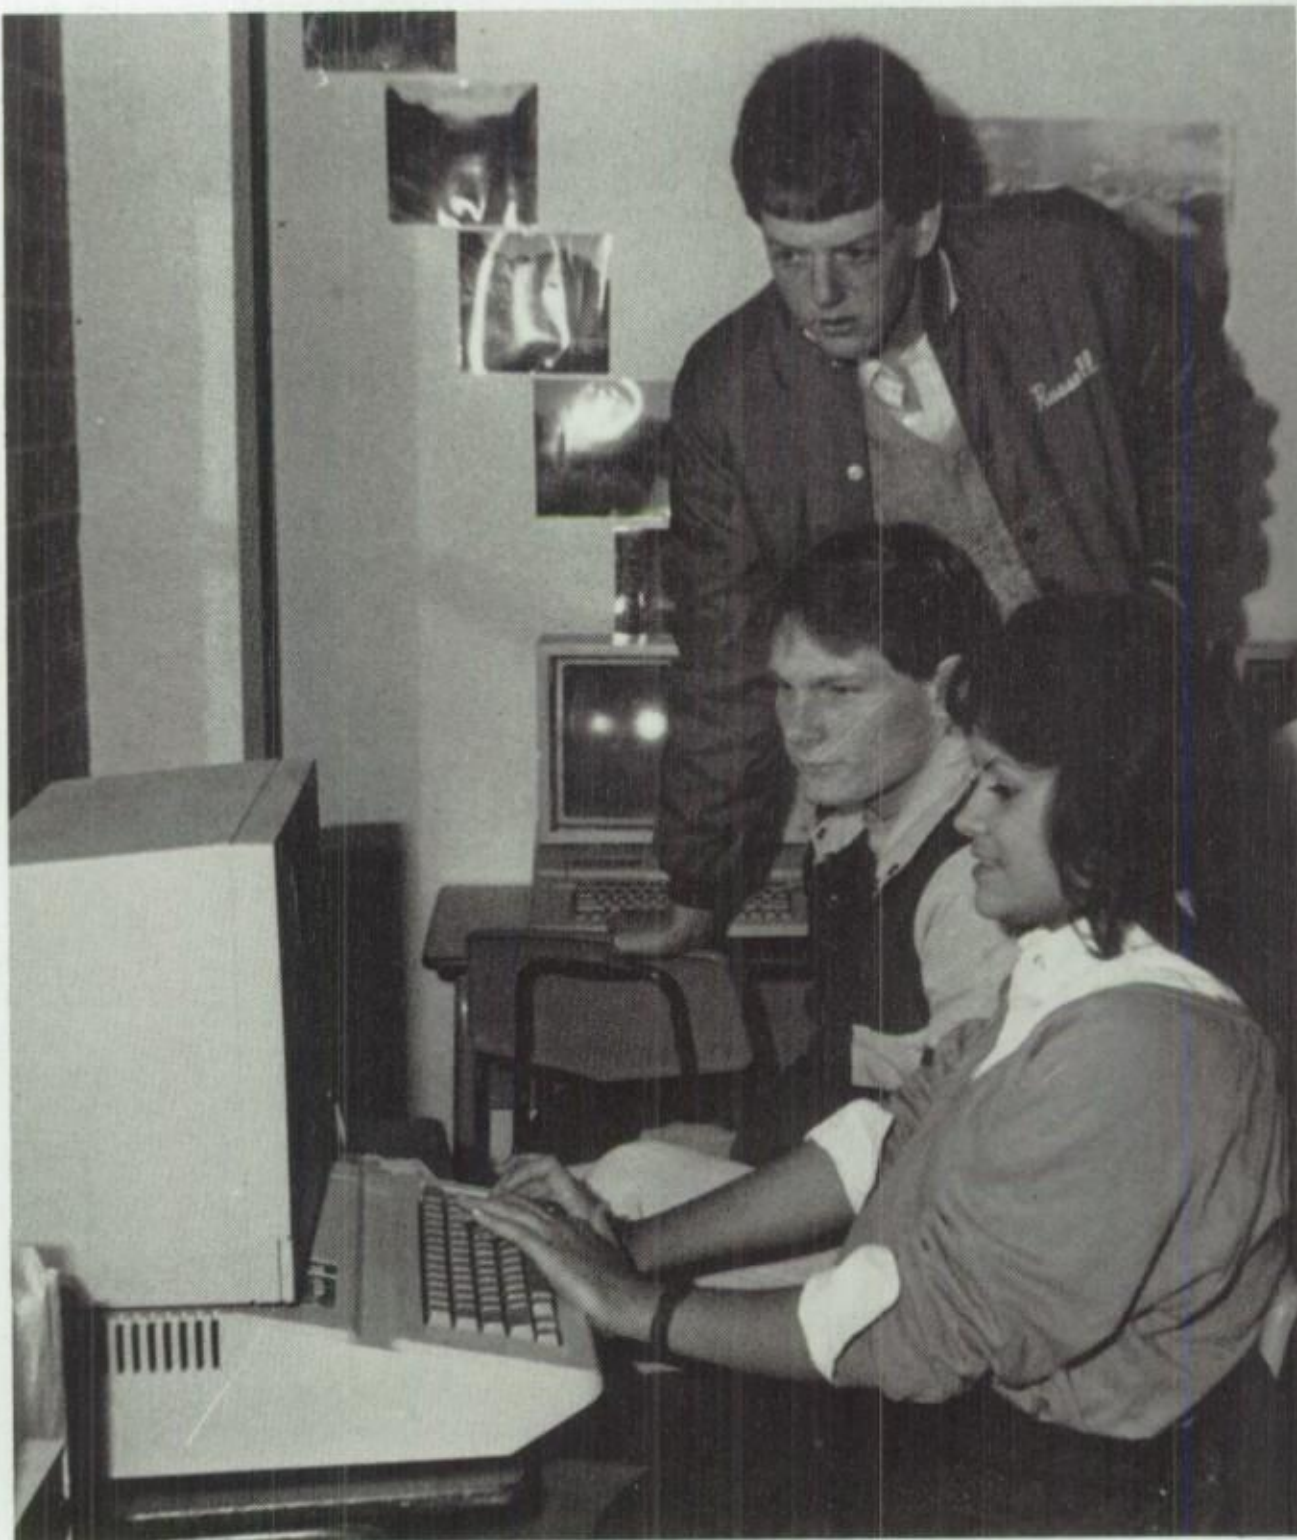

Christina Bratton closes her eyes in disgust after erasing her program.

"Where's my disk?" is a familiar phrase of a Computer Club member. Along with playing games, the club sponsors dances and fund raisers. Ms. Mankoff purchased a video camera that will transfer an image onto the video screen. The Computer Club is STICKING IT OUT.

TOGETHER ONCE MORE

These clubs are grand examples of the togetherness this school exudes. This is the Chess club's fourth year as an organization. They have several loyal members among their ranks. The Science Club is growing by leaps and bounds. They plan to go to the Omni Theatre and to sponsor the Jr. High Science Fair. These two groups are TOGETHER ONCE MORE.

This year's FFA is overflowing with young farmhands. Once again, Richard Garner is the sponsor of this growing organization. The FFA is divided into two groups: Greenhands and Chapter members. This year, as always, the members will be co-hosting the Sweetheart Dance with the FHA. They are also selling fruit and helping with the homecoming mums. All in all, the FFA is working together.

TOGETHER IN SPIRIT

Go, Fight, Win! AHS! We're Number One!

These are some of the things said by the cheerleaders and dance team during the football games. Boosting the spirit of the team and the school is an important job. Head cheerleader this year is Laney Byrom. The officers of the dance team are: captain, Sherry Mega; lieutenants,

The dance team sold spirit ribbons and pom-poms to raise money. This summer the cheerleaders attended camp at Tarlton State University in Stephenville. They received three superior ribbons and one excellent ribbon. They were also nominated for the Award of Excellence. The dance team held camp this summer at the school. Keryl Bishop from T.W.U. came this summer and taught four routines. Together the cheerleaders and the dance team help promote school spirit.

SIDE BY SIDE

The Jr. High Cheerleaders practice one of their fantastic pyramids.

The Jr. High and J.V. Cheerleaders have had an exciting year. Both groups have done an excellent job of cheering their teams on to victory. Painting signs and giving their football brothers candy was an activity the girls did each week. Both the Jr. High and J.V. Cheerleaders did some cheers at the Varsity pep-rallies and the J.V. gave a pep-rally for their team before the game against Little Elm. The girls learned that cheerleading takes much practice to make things right. The girls worked very hard to make things work out. These girls cheered for their teams SIDE BY SIDE.

CONTINUALLY GROWING

The fourth, fifth, sixth, and Jr., High bands are getting bigger each year. This year there are at least fifty fourth graders playing recorders. The bands will all participate in the Christmas concert and the spring concert as well as going to Sandy Lake Park. This will be a great year for the Aubrey bands.

HANGING ON TO GREATNESS

"Don't you know how to march?" is just one of the many questions you will hear during the morning practices of the band. Ms. Hall can be a little harsh, but look at the results. The band has kept many an audience captivated with its majestic interludes of music. They are planning to go to contest with their hopes for state. They have done well in contests in the past. They have younger members than in years past. The youngest members are in the seventh grade. Through all the hardships, they keep HANGING ON TO GREATNESS.

SHARING IT TOGETHER

Karen Davis really means business when she wants that ball.

"Bump", "Set", and "Spike" were the three words that this team lived for almost four months. In spite of the record 2-12, words like enthusiastic, hard-working, and never say die describe the 1986 Varsity Volleyball team. "I was pleased that our volleyball skills continued to improve throughout the season," commented Coach Alita Dillon.

Due to the construction taking place and not having a gym to practice in, these girls were not able to reach their goals which were set at the beginning of the season. There was not any satisfaction in losing, but there was satisfaction many times as a result of good play, enjoyment of the sport, and the friendship they all shared.

WORKING "TOGETHER"

This year's junior varsity had a tremendous outcome enabling them to play both freshmen and junior varsity matches. Although these teams consisted of freshmen and sophomores, upper classmen mostly played in the junior varsity matches. Also, due to the lack of sophomores some of the freshmen girls moved up to play more experienced matches.

Both of these young teams have had a slow start but have finished strong. The large number of players will ensure depth of the future varsity team. "I am looking forward to the contributions these girls will make in the next year's varsity team," commented Coach Alita Dillon.

GROWING CLOSE WITH PRIDE

At the beginning of the summer, all of the members of the varsity football team began the season by participating in a weight program. They had the best turnout in the weightroom than ever before. Although they are a young team, the players have devoted themselves to be the best that they can be.

"We realize that dedication, hardwork, and teamwork will lead to success on and off the field," commented head coach, Dana Bloedel. These players hold up their heads and feel by stickin' together as a team that their pride will bring them closer to their goals of striving for excellence.

HAND'N' HAND WITH VICTORY

After losing 12 seniors from last year, the 1986 varsity team had expected the challenge and went out and posted 6-4 overall record. With exceptional play, they have tied the best varsity record set in 1977.

Senior Eric Burch commented, "We succeeded because we worked together. When we did not play as a team we lost." This is a tribute to the seniors who have accomplished goals beyond belief.

A PROMISING FUTURE

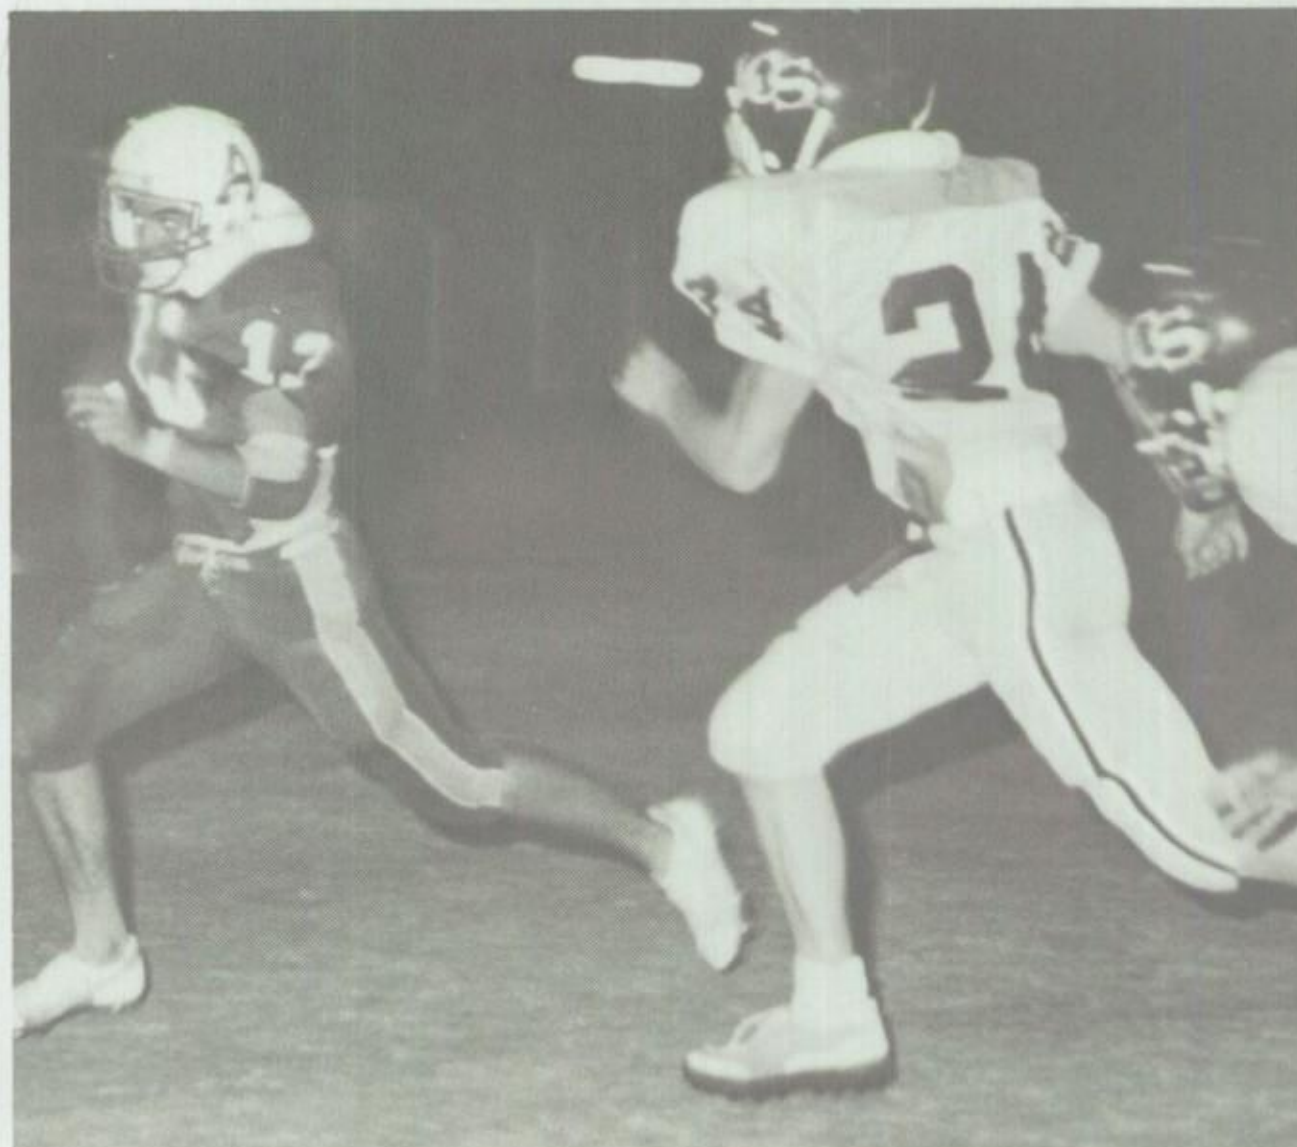

This year's junior varsity team consists of 21 members, which are mostly freshmen. It has been heard that this team has the best winning attitude and are always ready to play. "Because of the performance and dedication, the future looks bright," commented Coach Jackie McBroom.

This young team has improved tremendously and are expected to become even better. They have proven to be the best junior varsity team that has come through Aubrey. These guys have worked hard to rise to the top of the district. They tied for the title with a record of 8-2.

"TOGETHER" In Small Affairs

The youngest of the junior high, the seventh grade, are the smallest team in the district. They have been described as over achievers with a good attitude. "These young boys work very hard," commented Coach Stensgard.

Next, the eighth graders are also one of the smallest teams in their competition; only having thirteen members. They are overall a hardworking group and are always ready to play. Coach Oldham remarks, "These kids give all that they have." These young players are and will be ready for the future.

Overcoming Difficulty

Regale Foutch goes in for a lay-up.

The Aubrey Varsity girls' was a very young team this year. A total of only 9 girls: 3 seniors, 2 juniors, and 4 sophomores played most of their games against other varsity teams.

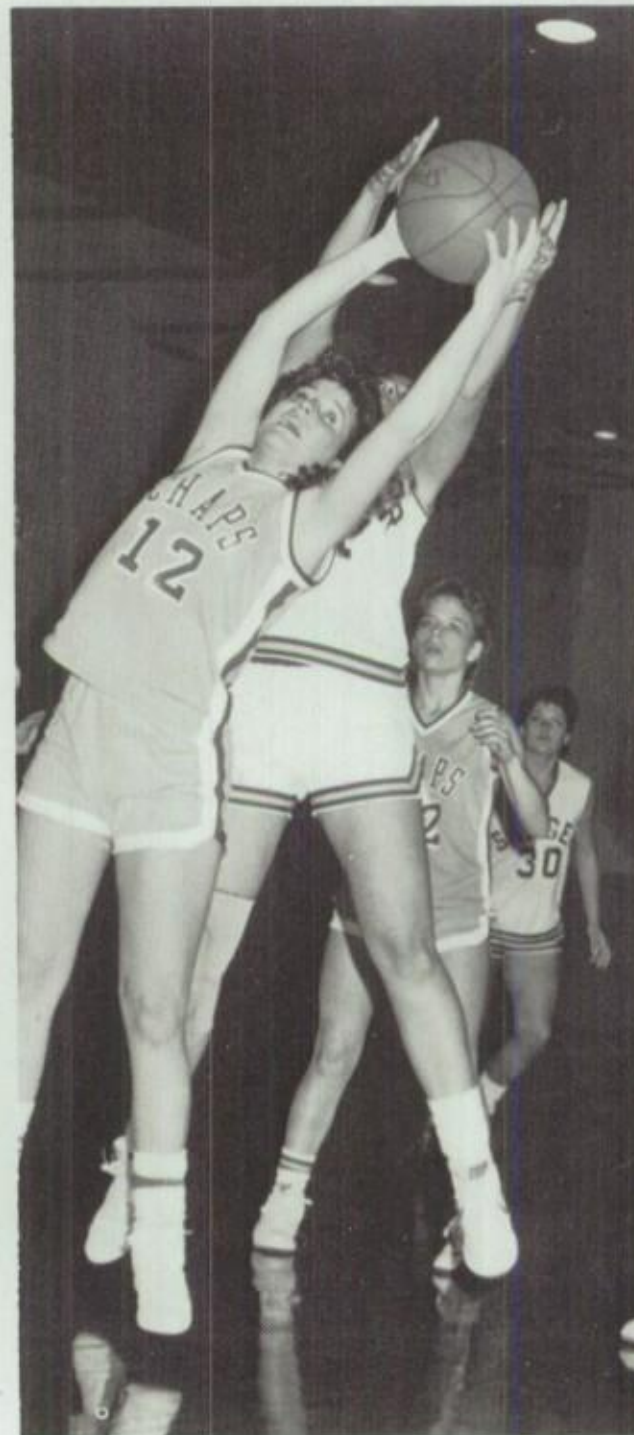

The team would endure all handicaps with determination and a positive attitude. The worst problem was injuries. They were plagued by unexpected injuries both before and during the season. Just as it seemed they were improving to be competitive — they would lose two of their seniors to injuries.

These girls may not have set grand school records, but they set records in our hearts. Coach Norris expressed it well when he said, "I am proud of them."

A Joint Effort

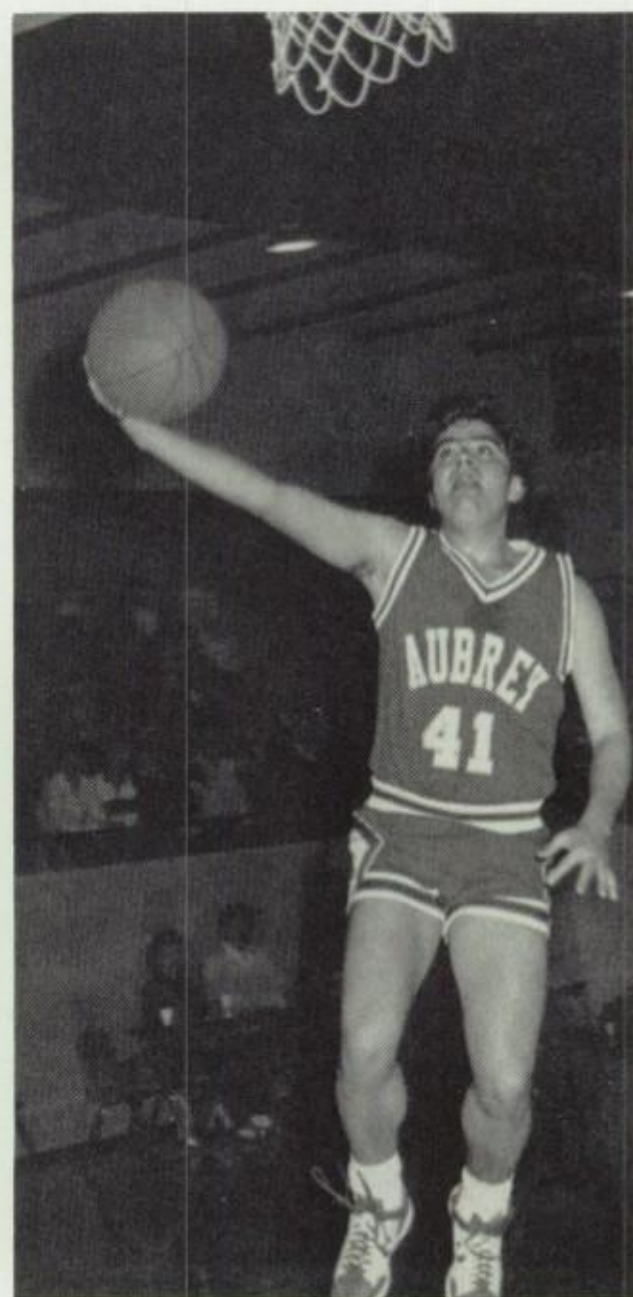

This year's varsity team consisted of ten hardworking and determined members. Although, in the beginning, there wasn't a place to practice, these guys always played up to their ability. They were always competitive in every game that was played. They always went into every game with a positive attitude.

At the beginning of the season, these guys were put up against bigger schools. But, they played a tough non-district schedule. Also, they played well during the district schedule. It was a team effort throughout the whole season. The guys didn't have the best season, but they all enjoyed playing together.

Sharing The Fun Together

Basketball is a game of skill. But it also takes effort from each player. Each player has his or her own job to do. Of course, they should do their best. Thus, in turn, this makes up the team. It takes a team to achieve a winning attitude and season. A team must play together and help each other out.

The games aren't everything. Practices seem to take alot out of a person. There is always plays, freethrows, scrimmages, shooting, and running lines. These practices require 100% from each player. This can be very tiring, but we all show it is beneficial. But, all in all, this game is alot of fun. It can be shared by all types of people ... together.

That Sanger opponent does not have a chance.

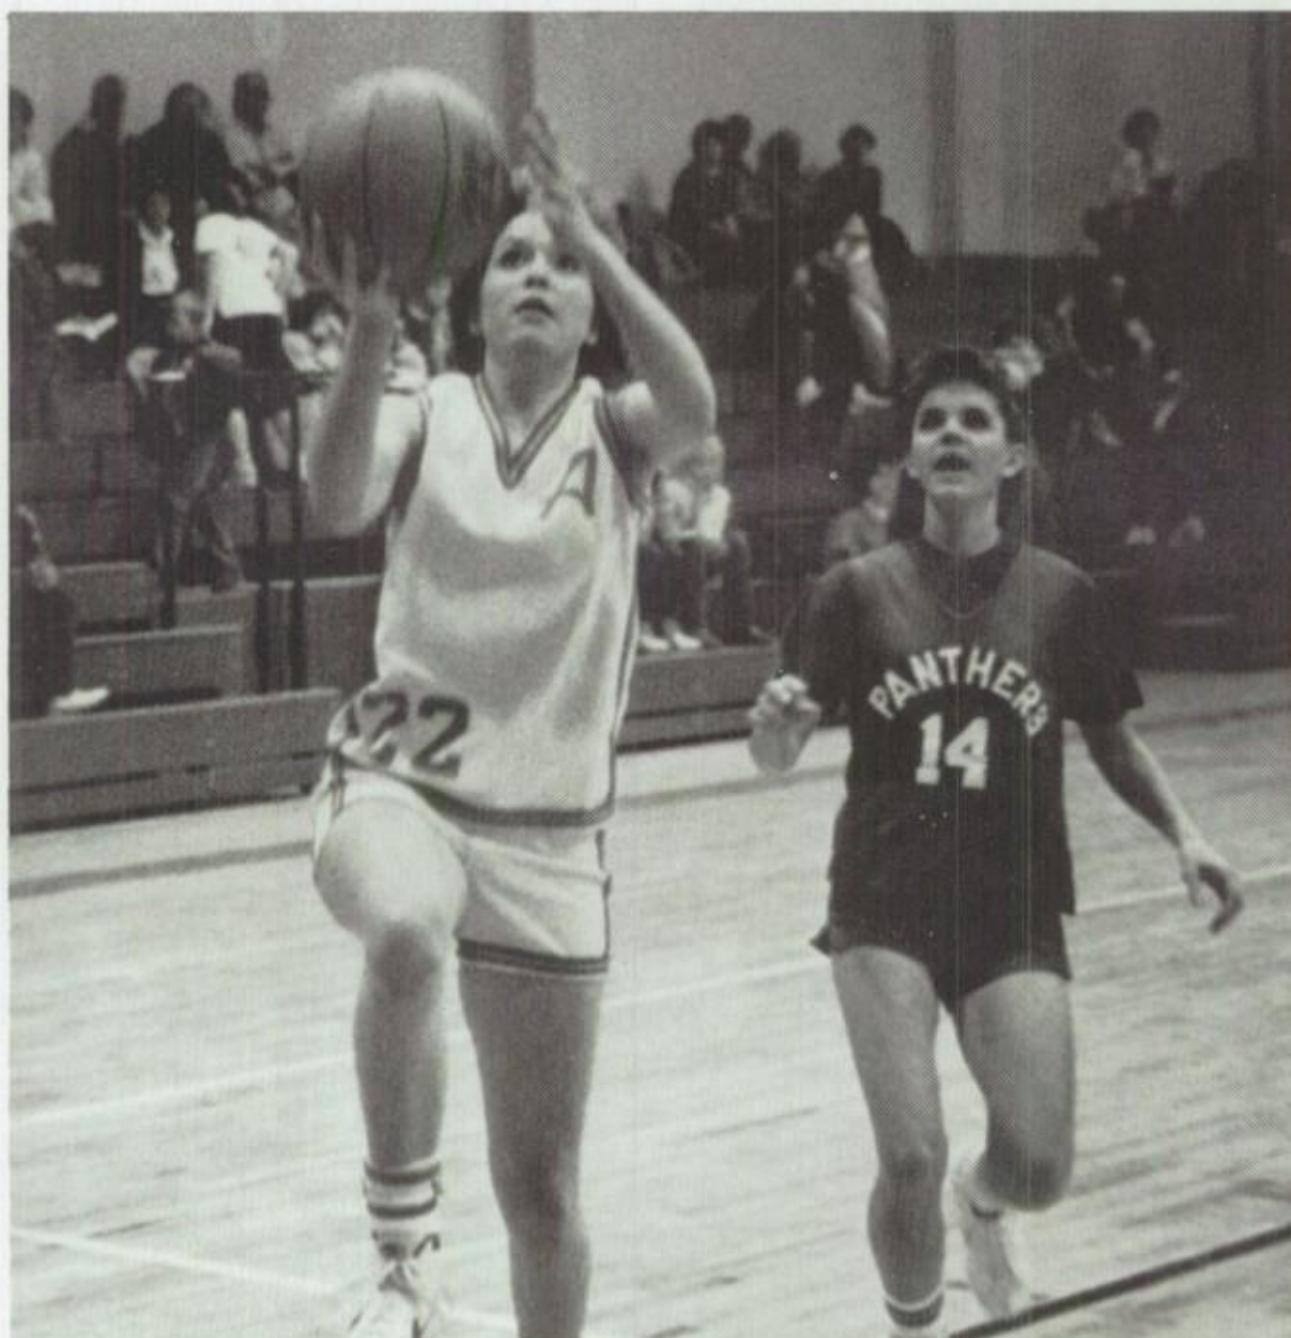

The determination in Jeff Ferrell's face shows it all.

Progressing Together

The J.V. team was also very young this year. They had only two sophomores and the rest were freshman. That gave them a total of seven young ladies. Our freshmen would pick up the slack. Since the team was young, the emphasis was on fundamentals.

As the season progressed, you could see the improvement both on defense and offense. By the end of the season, when the younger members of the team had more playing experience, the J.V. team played good, solid basketball. They would end their season with a 7-4 record. "I am pleased with their progress this year," said Coach Norris.

On The Right Track

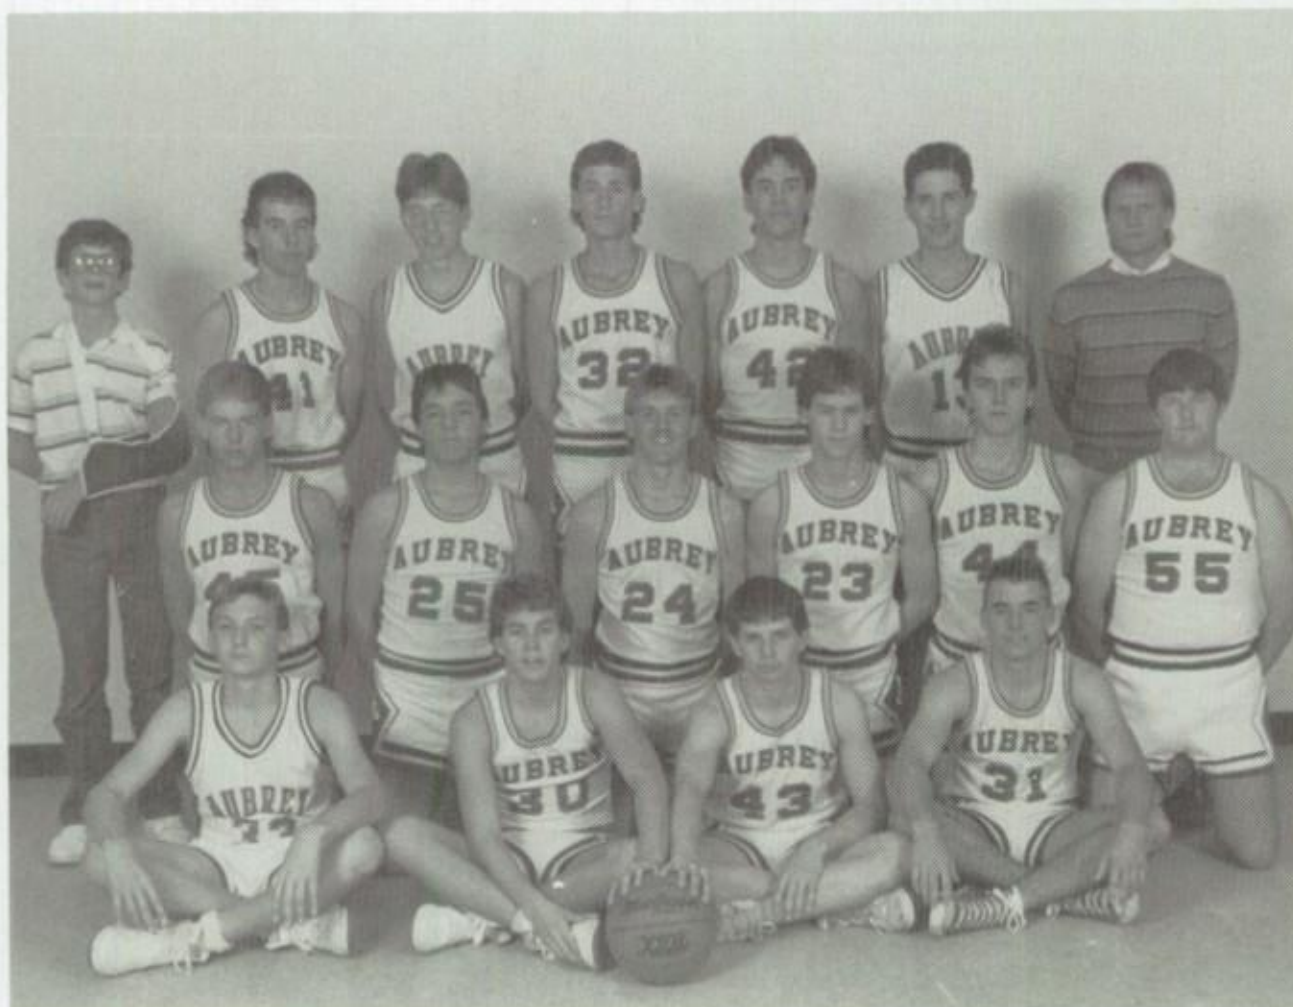

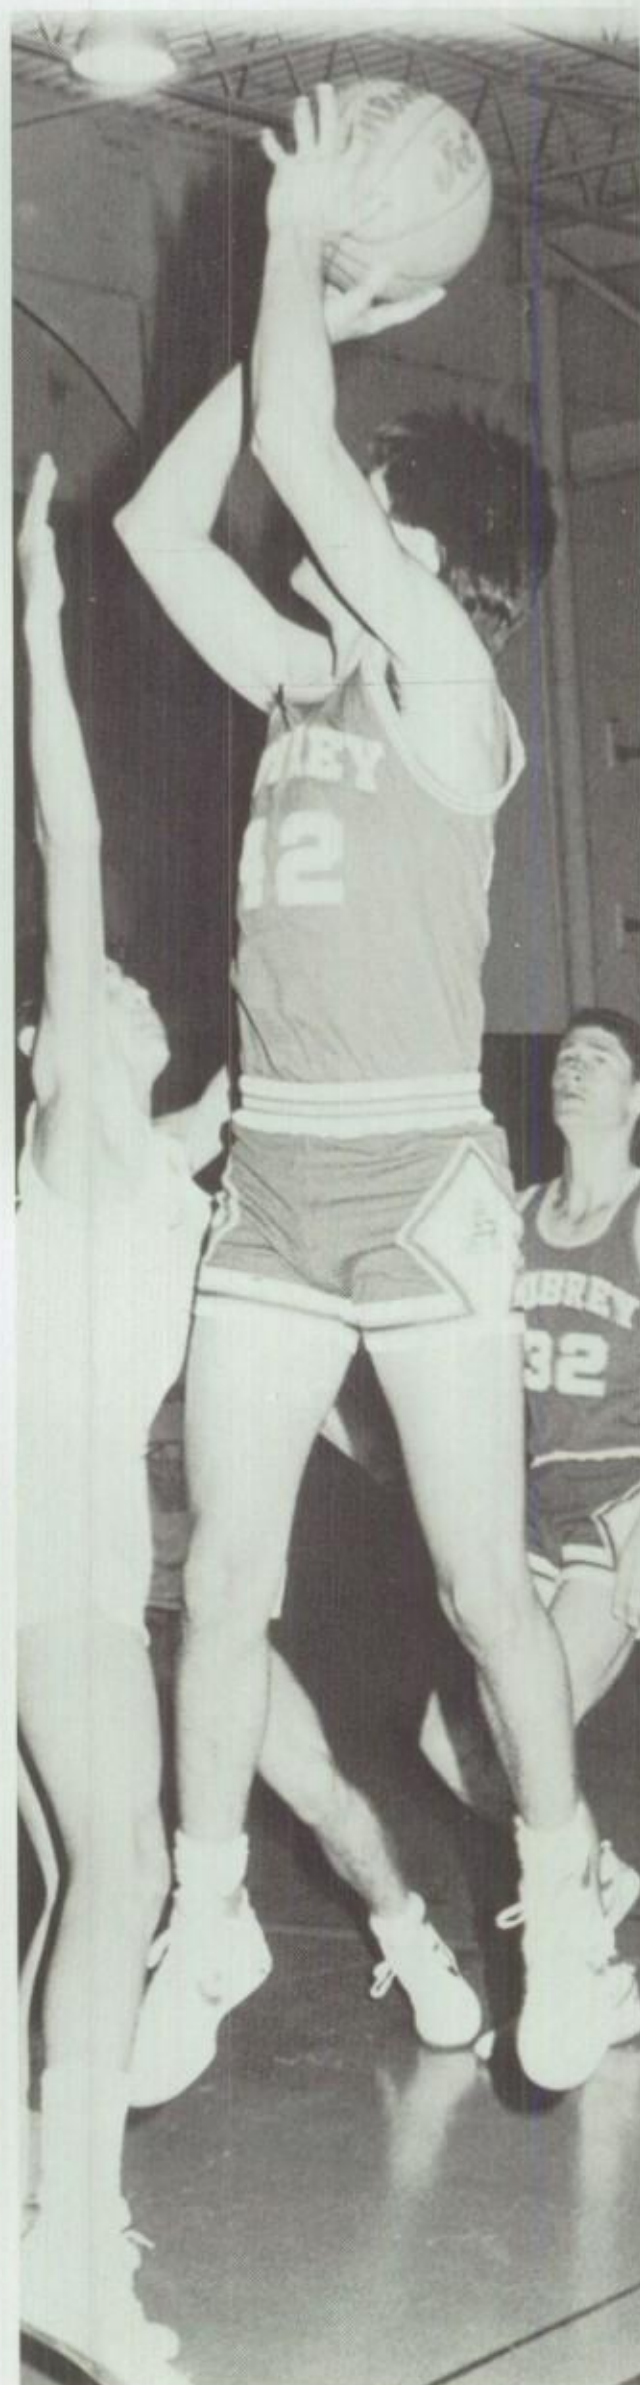

"Rollercoaster pretty much explains the J.V. boy's season," commented Coach Stensgard. "We would play a great game, but turn around and play a poor game." The most positive aspect of the season was the steady improvement on their overall basketball skills; passing, dribbling, shooting, offense and defense. They also kept a positive attitude for the most part of the season.

This team consisted of many dedicated and hardworking members. They always seemed to want to practice and improve themselves. They were always competitive in the games that were played. Even though their record wasn't that impressive; they improved tremendously and made everyone proud of them.

Strong Finish

After a shaky start, the 7th grade girls ended the season with a strong finish. They finished the season with a record of 7-7. The team adapted well to learning new offenses and defenses, and ran plays very effectively.

The 8th grade girls showed alot of improvement over the season. Even though there were few wins, the team stuck together and continued to work hard during practices. They never gave up and were always asking for ways to become better. "These girls made my first year of coaching fun and exciting," commented Coach Mankoff.

Clinging To Victory

The 7th grade boys had a spectacular season undefeated and were district champs. Their record was 12-0. "I enjoyed the year and appreciated the effort that these boys put out everyday in practice and in games. They're a great team," commented Coach McBroom.

For the 8th graders, the season started out slow, mainly because of no place to practice. This team consists of nine dedicated members who work together as a team. They do not have any superstars, so all of the guys chip in their fair share. They have come out on top of the district and have accomplished so much during the season. "The young men have worked really hard and I'm very proud of them," commented Coach Oldham.

Constantly Working Hard

Our girls stay up with the crowd.

This year's cross country team consisted of five members. There was only one returning senior. They were always willing to work out hard everyday and were very dedicated. They were very supportive and competitive in the meets that they attended.

The power team has really worked hard this year. The off-season program is fifty percent of the reason they do so well in football. They participated in four meets. Their main goal is to take someone to state in the future.

Sharing The Glory

"Track" is word that makes some people shutter and turn away. However, it seems to get better as the season progresses. The first few weeks always seems to be the worst, due to the soreness from the previous workout. After the season is underway, the pain seems to fade away and all that is left is glory.

Every member of the team is special in their own way. Whether they are sprinters, distance runners, throwers, or jumpers; they all take part. As the season closes out, it seems to remain memorable to those who will never return.

Jannah McDade seems to be ready for a meet.

Together . . . Til The End

This year's track team seems to have expanded tremendously!

The year's boys track team was the strongest team overall. There were many participants that were very dedicated. Everyday at practice they always gave all their effort and worked hard to become the best. These guys never had any doubt of not being able to win their individual events.

Many of the athletes returned from last year to better themselves. These strong athletes have opened the doors to others, in hopes that the strength of our athletes will expand. "This was my first year as the Varsity track coach and I was very pleased with the everyday effort and overall attitude the boys showed," stated Coach McBroom.

Great Beginnings

The first Aubrey baseball team.

This was the first year that Aubrey has participated in baseball as a varsity sport. Nonetheless, there were a lot of young players, who had played in the Aubrey and Denton summer leagues.

All the members of this newly organized team were given brand new uniforms and equipment, which gave them good attitudes. They worked on the three basics: hitting, fielding & pitching, and fundamentals. This seems to be a start of great beginnings. "I am very excited about this first season in baseball," commented Coach Stensgard.

The Year Gone By

Sports seems to be a very important activity during the school years. Everyone seems to take part; whether they play, or just come to watch.

Most of the time, conversation relates back to: the "big" play, the bad call by the referee, or the best time ever. Have you ever thought what the year would be like without such activity? Well, let's not. All the athletes that participated are greatly appreciated. So, let's cherish the year gone by.

STICKIN' TOGETHER IN . . .

Dwayne O'Dell, Gabe Yoakum, and Jannah McDade work hard grading papers in the lunchroom.

BOUND By The BORDER

Spanish consists of translations, conjugations, grammar, and vocabulary. The students are being taught to speak, comprehend, and write the language. Along with the hard work, there is all the fun of learning the cultures and customs of the Spanish speaking countries. This includes a feast of many different Spanish dishes sampled by all at the end of the year.

This year essays, literature, and research papers are playing a major role in our English programs. Although students tend to think essays come too often, Mrs. Norris considers them a great learning tool. Some of the comments pertaining to the essays are: "I can't stand them; there are too many of them; the topics are out of this world; and essays just aren't my thing."

Ms. Dillon tries to explain the daily assignment to her confused Spanish II class.

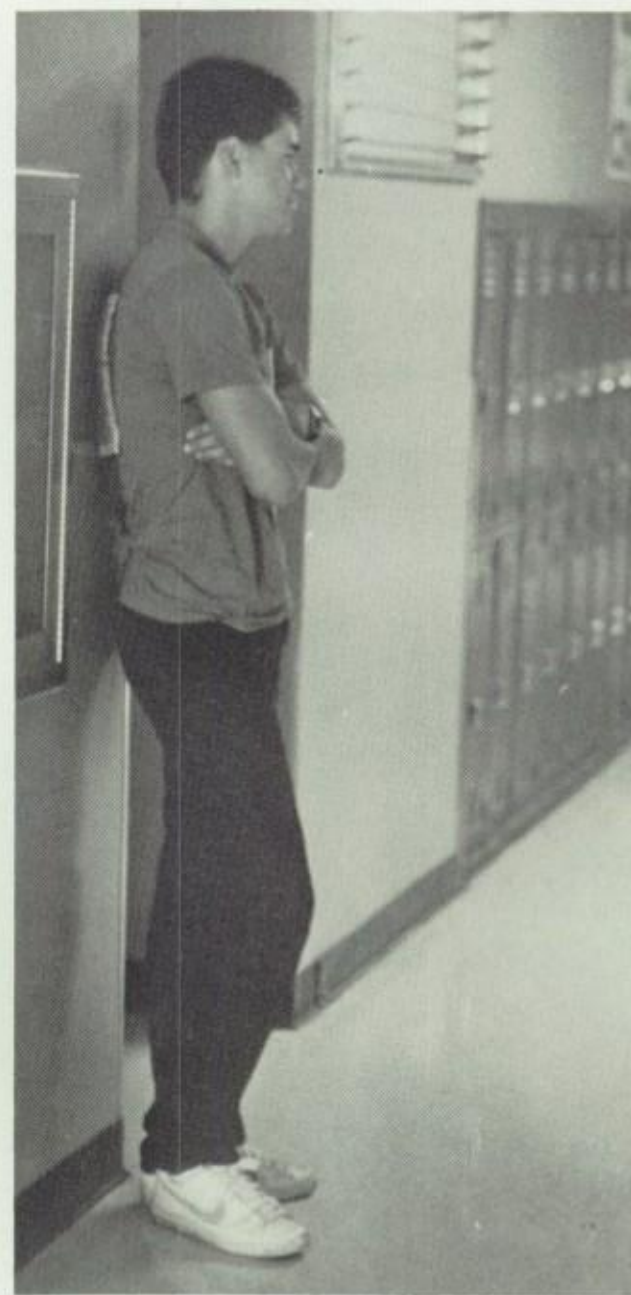

What is this! Oh, it's just another ordinary day in Mr. Grovesteen's English II class.

"¿Como esta usted?" "What did she say?" "I have no idea. I don't know Spanish."

Why is David Goins so anxious to get to class? After all it is only Ms. Dillon's Spanish I class.

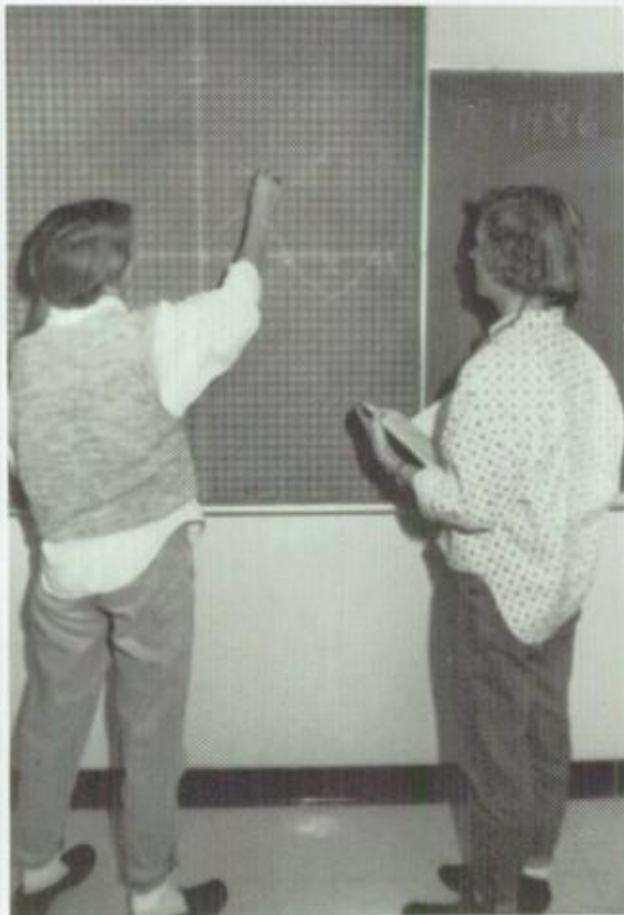

Mrs. Norris tries to seat Jim Faught and Beth Hensley so she can continue with the lesson.

These students are all smiles. Could this mean that everyone passed the test.

Kathy, or is it Diane, is drawing a sine line in trigonometry.

Teresa Lantrip decides that using batteries is much easier than working problems out by hand.

This Geometry I class is learning to love using their compasses.

OUT

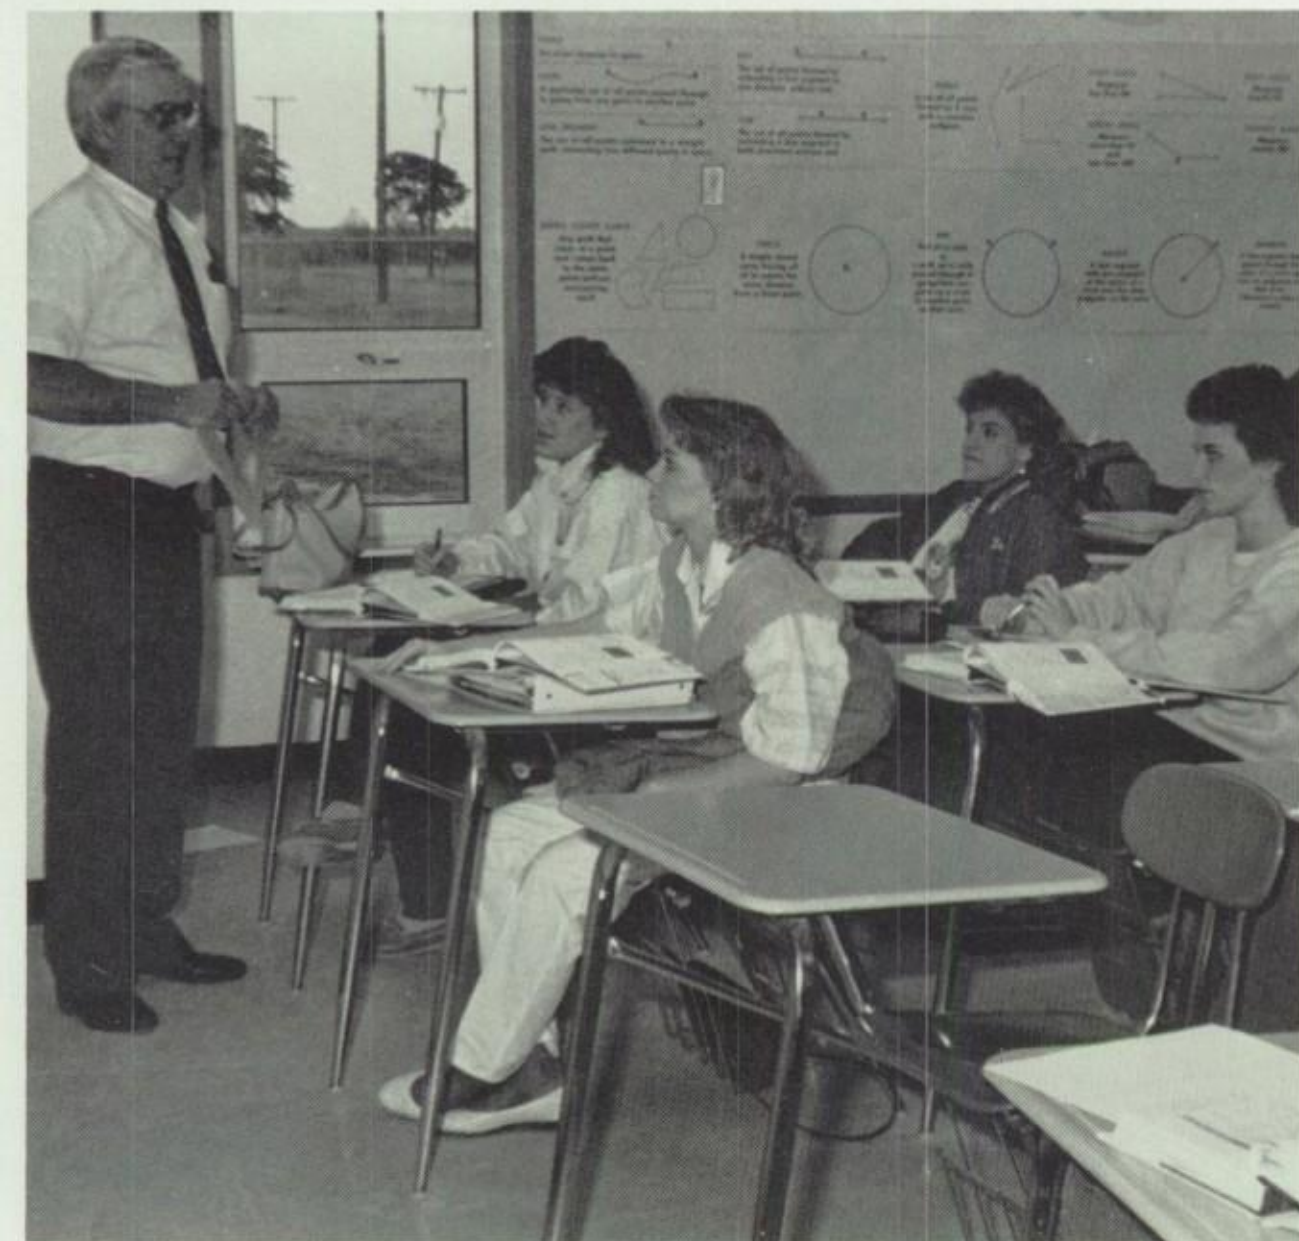

Arithmetic, consisting of MOCE, consumer math, pre algebra, Algebra I, Algebra II, informal geometry, Geometry I, and trigonometry is much more than just addition and subtraction. We are learning everything from simple multiplication to complex graphs, angles, and charts which require the use of calculators, rulers, compasses, and protractors. Each student is required to take three years of math. Some students, however, are brave and are taking a fourth year. Tawni Bennett, for example, is taking trigonometry this year, and she says, "It teaches you more than just how to use numbers. It teaches you common sense." Sherry Mega will take her fourth year math course next year. Her comments are, "Working with numbers is fun. I like math." These students, along with all the rest of the student body, are working hard in their math courses.

Coach LaDuke teaches while this attentive class takes notes in informal geometry.

Kristy Barrett is proving one of her homework problems in Algebra I class.

STICKY FINGERS

Numbers, figures, keys, letters, columns, memos, and ledgers are too much for us to comprehend. But for the students in computers, Typing I, Typing II, or accounting, these things are just a small part of their everyday curriculum.

Ms. Pollard teaches Typing I,

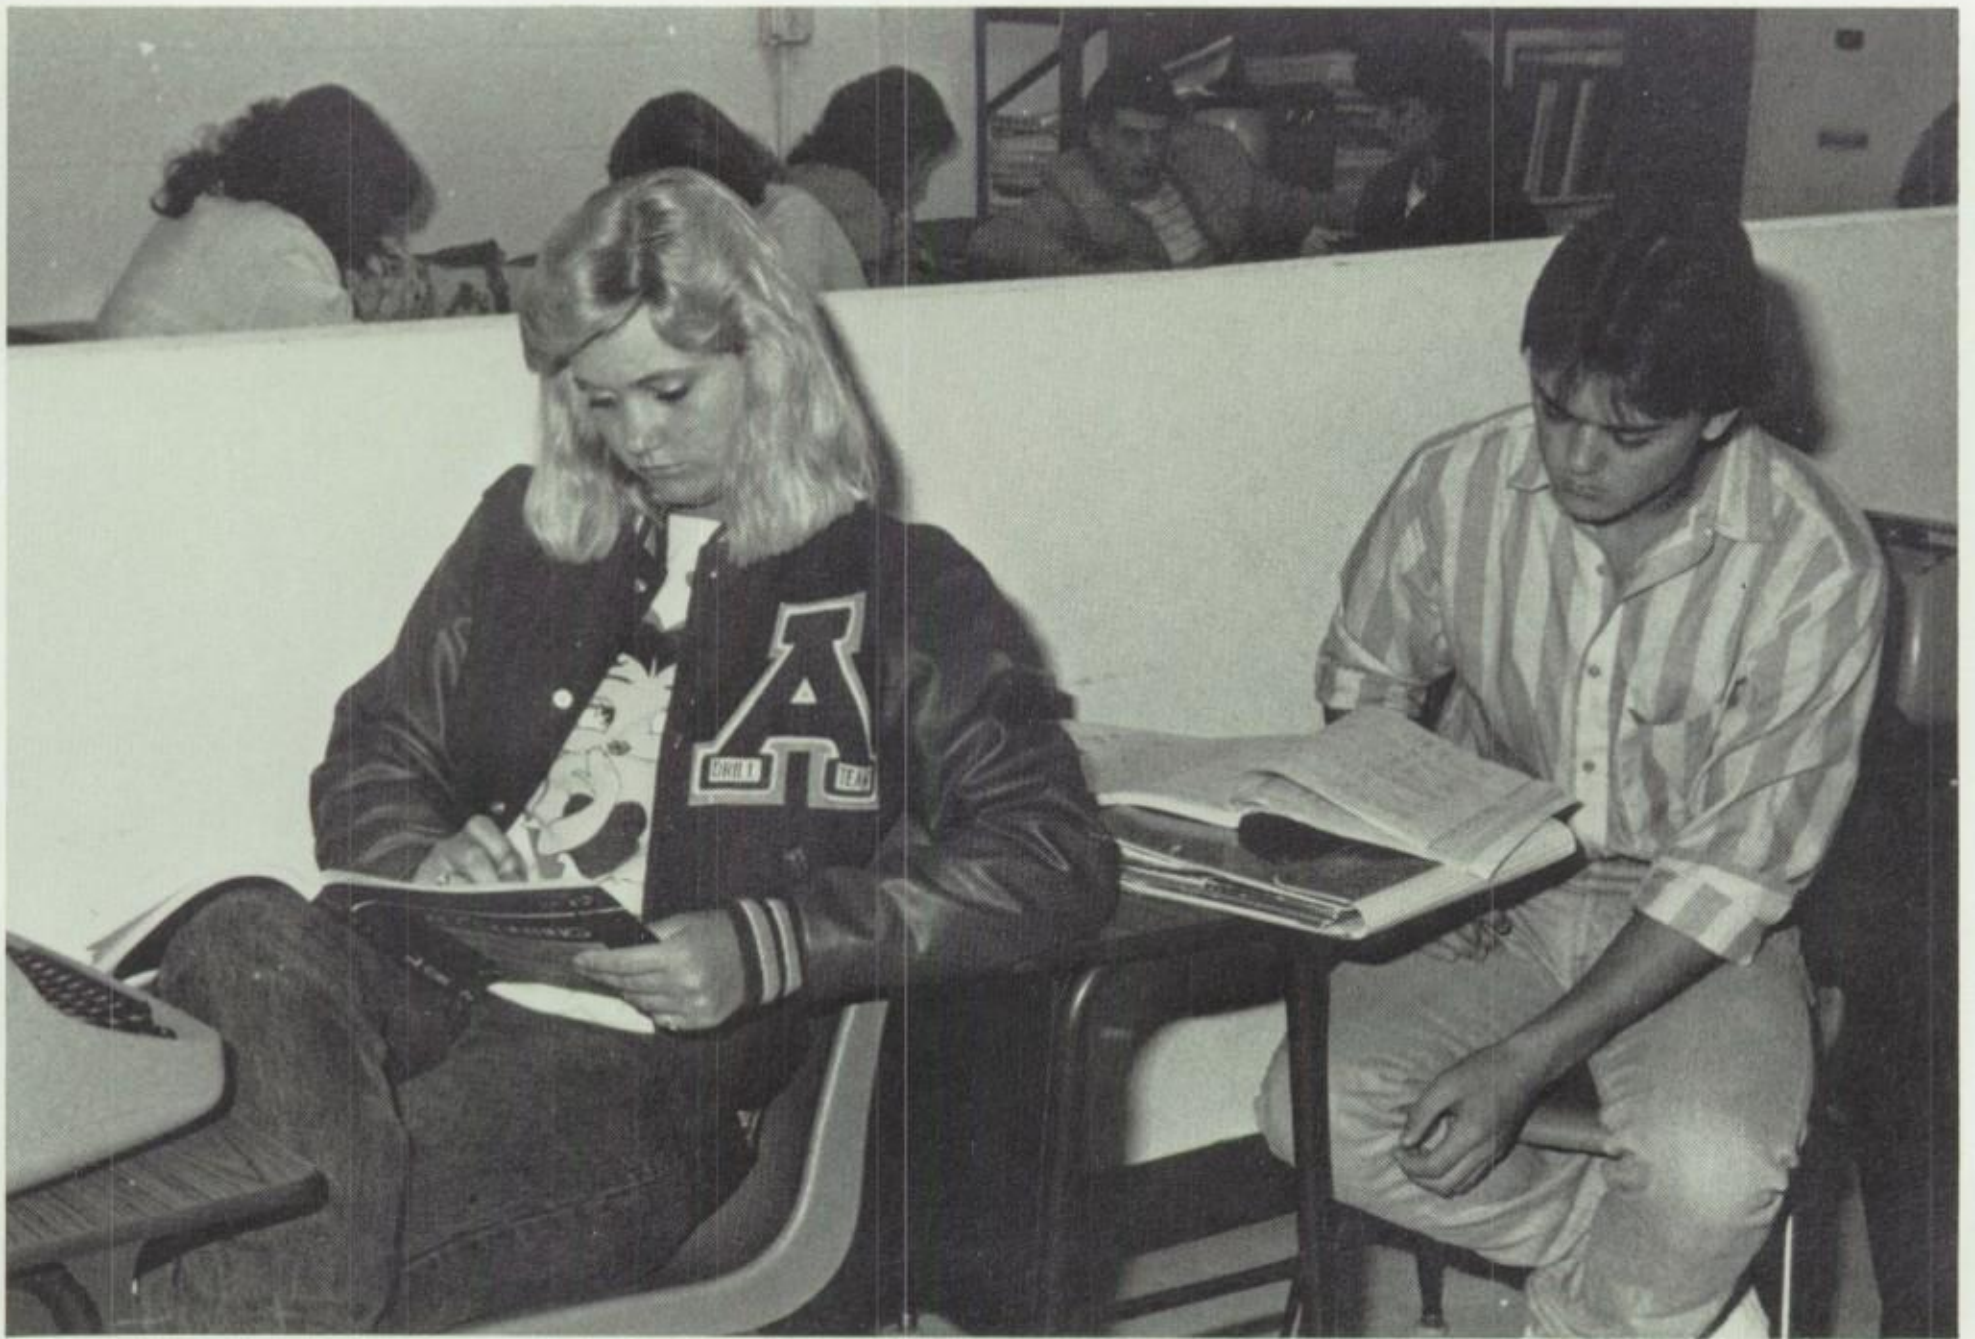

Crystal is having so much fun! She probably is wondering what Mandy is doing.

Typing II, and accounting. We asked the students if they ever got tired of her. Most said, "No, she is a lot of fun!". All of the computer classes are taught by one "cool" Ms. Mankoff. She has one eighth grade and three high school computer classes.

What's wrong with Ms. Mankoff? Did her computer classes finally get to her?

Lavada can really type! In Natalie's words, "We feel like Typing I students."

The accounting class consists of: J. Bryant, S. Hinch, T. Bennett, L. Goins, M. Branson, D. Millican, A. Brockett, M. Garza, B. Bincsik, T. McBride, R. King, H. Mackey, S. Foster, J. Faught, and H. Gheen.

If Jimmy gets a shorter tie, he won't have to worry about getting it caught in the typewriter.

COMBINING HOME And SCHOOL

When I asked Rhonda Bell how she feels about agriculture class she said, "It was really interesting. I like learning how to build things and how to take care of animals. Mr. Garner is really a fun teacher." Mr. Garner has a full day teaching six ag classes. Each is a mixture, ranging from Ag I to Ag IV. He is very proud of the hard work and dedication all of his students put into their work.

Home economics isn't just learning how to sew and to cook. The students also learn how to keep up with home finances, how to organize a place setting, how to arrange furniture to adapt to their lifestyle, and how to use nutritional information to plan meals. These things are very important when faced with the reality of running a household.

Aubrey has added a new class this year. Ms. Lamb is teaching child development fourth period. It seems to be a popular choice for senior students. They learn how to deal with children, children's problems, and raising a child.

Amanda and Lerae seem to really like being around children. Maybe that's why they took child development.

First period ag class contains Ag III and Ag IV students. Here they are, working as hard as ever.

The child development class must be really having fun today. At least the children are enjoying it.

Sewing is a beneficial skill, but I don't think Kenard McAdams is ready to sew his own wardrobe.

What a mess! Well, I guess learning to clean is just part of being in a home economics class.

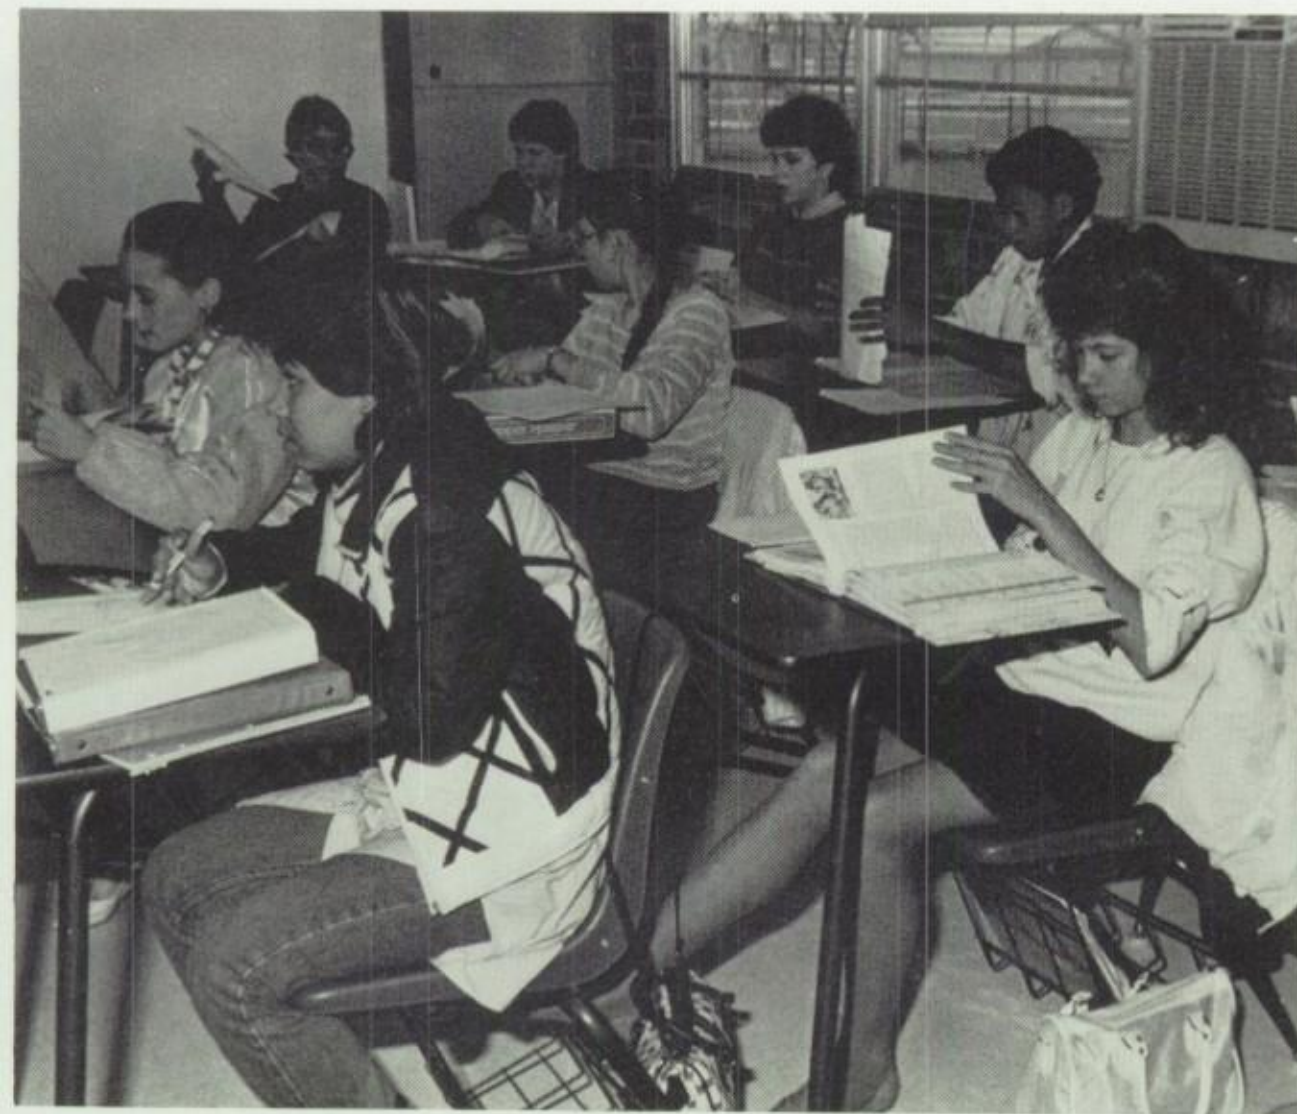

Tia Foster and Ann Bell are being an attentive audience while Stephanie Needum gives her history report.

Tammy Long says, "I am absolutely positive that the answer is Kansas-isn't it?"

The civics class is discussing the campaigns for the state elections

Joining PAST And PRESENT

The history classes are studying a variety of different subjects this year. American history students are studying the Civil War, inventions and their inventors, the fifty states, the Revolutionary War, the U.S. Presidents, and much more. The students in world history are studying World War I, World War II, foreign countries and their rulers, peace treaties and talks, the depression, ect. Civics, a course mainly for the seniors, is involved in political elections. The students are working at the campaign headquarters of their choice to earn extra credit in class.

Mr. Norris' history class is busy putting six weeks folders together.

Misty Sherrill and Missy McManus are busy at work in Mr. Firth's class, while Larry Gonzales is waiting to ask a question.

Craig Cousins is passing out papers, while Jeromey Sims finishes a love note.

COMBINING The ELEMENTS

When asked what physics is all about, Russ Skinner replied, "Physics is like physical science, but it doesn't deal with chemistry at all. It is the study of the Laws of Motion and all the related principles. Much of what we do is in the lab." There are also two biology classes and two physical science classes this year. Mrs. Ary teaches the biology classes, a physics class, and a physical science class. Mr. Clifton also has a full day of teaching science classes.

Health is very closely related to science. This year Coach Bloedel is teaching a fourth period health class. The class is considered a senior class because there are only seniors in it. They learn about the human body and how it works.

What is going on under the table in physics class? Whatever it is, Bryan seems to be in control.

Physical education is being taught by Coach McBroom. Coach says, "We are in here to have fun, and we are going to have fun." Some may think this is impossible, but if they go on one of the P.E. walks, they would change their minds.

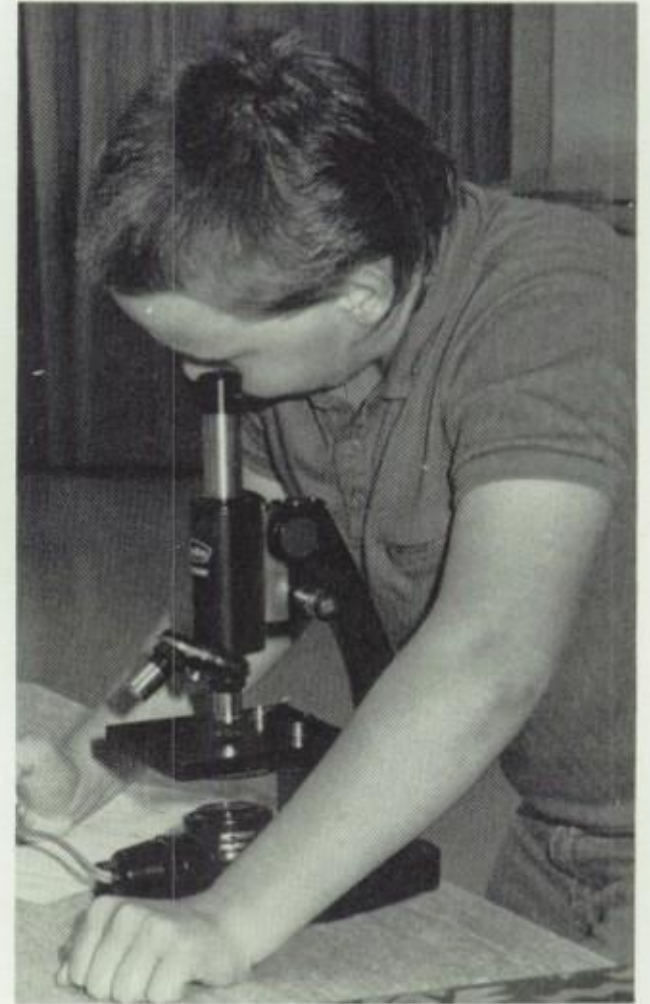

Cheryl English shoots a basket, and she makes it. This is a popular activity during physical education.

I wonder what is so interesting? Maybe it is just because Mr. Clifton's classes are so fun.

Doesn't this look like fun? Wouldn't you like to be hunched over a microscope right now?

Why is it that Diane, Kathy, and Debra look so interested? Oh, they're not paying attention.

Is Terry Wilson really hurt, or is he just trying to get out of running? I guess we'll never know.

BOUND to the ACTION

Drama is a course that teaches you more than just the "Three R's." It improves your acting skills, knowledge of the arts, and your imagination. "Drama helps you get over your shyness," says Sherry Mega. Triangles, charades, and plays are a few of the exercises performed by the students.

"The paper must go on" could be the motto for the Chaparral Action this year. Although the schedules for the five member newspaper staff do not permit one class, they work through it in three classes to produce a great school newspaper. The members are: Melissa Branson, Laney Byrom, Michelle Byrom, Jay Monk, and Kristie Whitehill.

"Give me that gun, or I'll hit you," says Jason Hicks to Jay Monk during the rehearsal for Frankenstein.

Holly Brockett decides to give Ricky Howell a taste of his own medicine during Drama I.

Michelle, editor, and Laney work on the newspaper while the English class watches a film.

Poor Jay is all alone. Will someone please help him get the newspaper finished?

Melissa, Kristie, and Mrs. Norris enjoy reading their article on the Aubrey-Pilot Point football game.

PUTTING It All TOGETHER

This year's editor is Shana Foster. She is putting together the opening-closing and the People pages with the help of Holly Mackey. Copy-editor is Tawni Bennett. She and Tiffany Brockett work on the Student Life section. Brenna Bincsik and Bill Russell are sticking together the Sports section, while Chris Campbell and Charlene Miller are cooperating on Organizations. Sherry Mega and Kerrick Lindsey work hard to achieve an Academics section, and Natalie Hanson and Doug Starr are the advertising executives. Michael Lynch and Darrell Morris are the photographers.

"See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil," is the true motto for the annual staff.

Shana Foster, Kerrick Lindsey, Tawni Bennett, and Holly Mackey are arguing again, as usual.

The annual staff is proofing pages for the first deadline. What a mess!

12 YEARS TOGETHER

We've grown up with each other
And over the years
We've shared lots of laughter
And shared lots of tears
The memories we have made
We'll keep in our hearts
But it is now time
For our new lives to start
It's so hard to let go
And finally say goodbye
The world's a scary place
And we often wonder why
But goodbyes aren't forever
And letting go is not so bad
As long as we can remember
All the fun we had
The Senior Class of 1987
Will always stand together.

And we'll never really have to say goodbye
Because our memories will last FOREVER.

HOLIDAYS AT AUBREY

Even Teachers Like To Have Fun

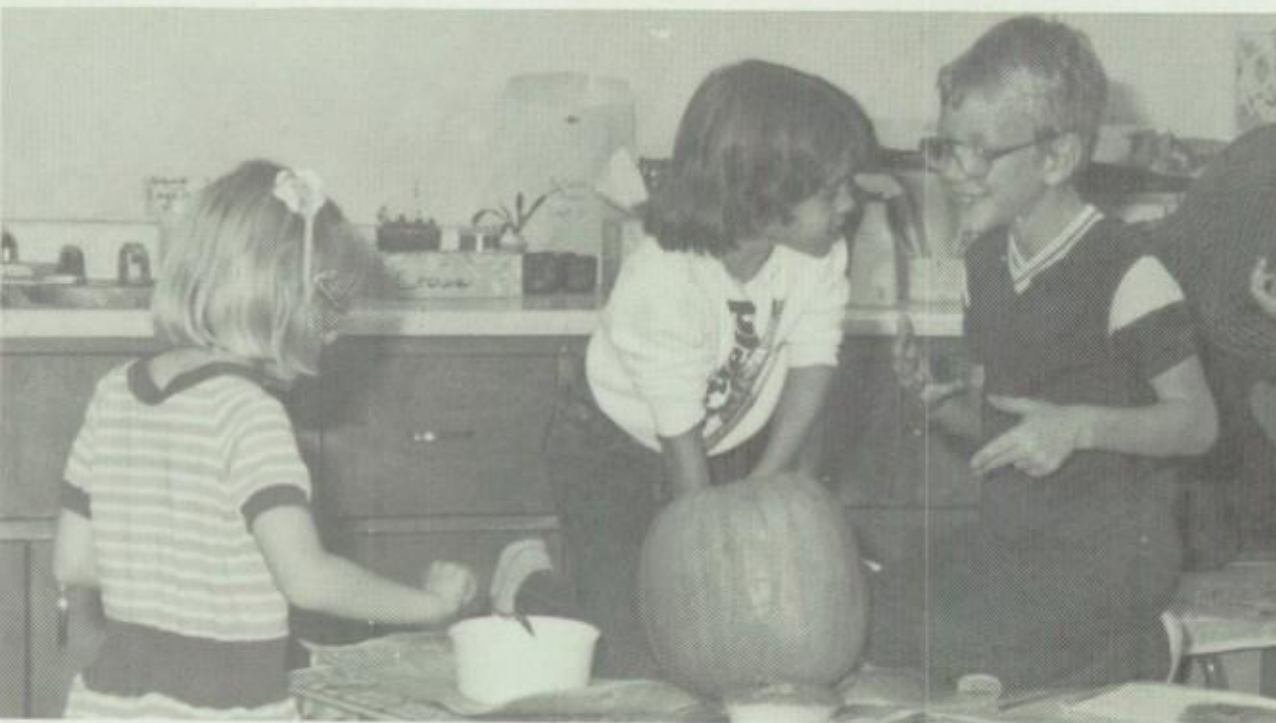

During the holidays, almost everyone in elementary school had a special teacher who made every occasion even more special. Now that some of us have grown up, we realize that there are certain high school teachers who make the holidays just as fun as when we were kids. Those teachers were and are something special to us and will be in our minds forever. Whether it was carving pumpkins or making turkeys out of our hands, they seemed to have as much fun as we did. Thanks for making those times, and those to come, so special for us.

Can anyone guess who these three goul-ish monsters are?

In both the pictures above and the picture to the left, Mrs. West's second grade classes carve halloween jack-'o-lanterns and have a blast.

Holly,

We have spent 18 years together. Most of what I want to say to you has been said between us in many ways. It seems maturity brings silence and buries a lot of words. I am hoping this does not happen to us, but in case we fall into the same mold, remember what I am saying to you now. There have been so many wonders and so many surprises in our years together. Being proud of you was always there, maybe even taken for granted; but you were always exceptional and seemed to surpass even the highest expectations. You were such a little lady, so prim and proper and sweet . . . always so well-mannered and sensitive and shy. Yet over the years and through many changes you have developed your own person and mind. I am so very proud of the strong, capable young woman you have become. You have an instinct whereby you set your values. You stand your ground and give a firm, justifiable reason why you will not bend those values. You back your convictions and go it alone rather than compromise. The world has so much to offer you; of course, more lessons and trials, but more knowledge and depth and character will unfold.

You know who you are.

You have both feet firmly planted.

You have a direction and goal in mind.

You have a tremendous capacity for love and caring.

And you have your Faith.

Remember, you have me behind you with a very special love God gave us — always, always.

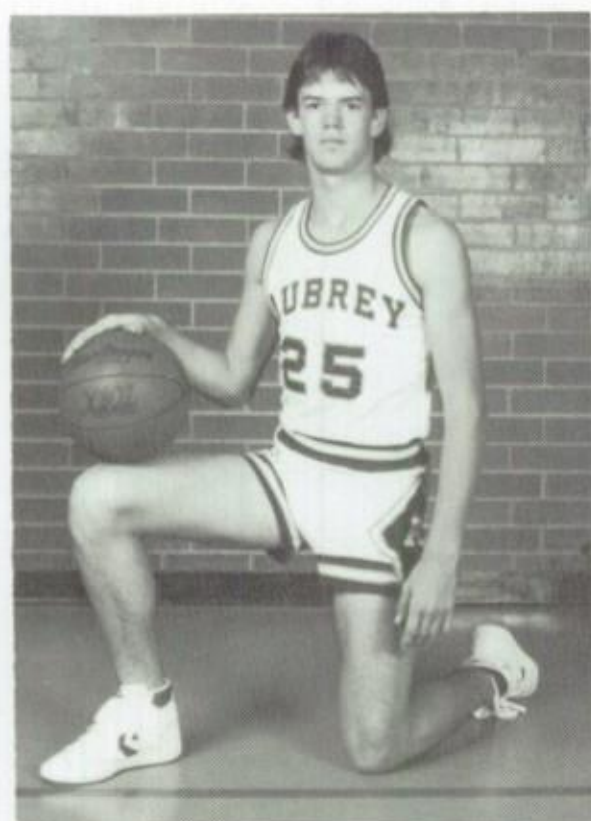

Just reach out — the world is within your grasp.

Mama

To Our Wonderful Son, Michael Ray

Dear Mike,

First, we want to say how very much we love you and congratulations on your graduation. Son, you have made us so very proud of you always, even in the hardest of times. We have had good times too and one of the best was when God gave us you. You know son, life is not easy, but if you have a strong will to get going, you can always find the right way with God's help. He will see you through the toughest of times.

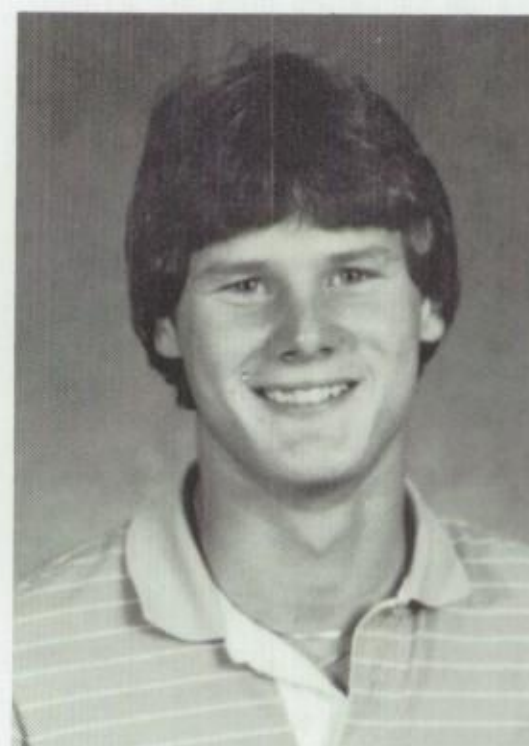

Michael, it takes Faith, Courage, Honesty, Good Values, and the Ability to pursue the course that you want in life to make it. Love and caring for others also. All these you have. Your Accomplishments and your success so far prove this so well.

Son, let God lead you on your path in life. With him all things are possible and He will never let you down, Never. Thank you for all the wonderful memories and so much joy. We know there will be more. Good Luck and God Bless You Son.

It's finally here! You have finished high school. The last 18 years have somehow flown by and you aren't our little girl anymore. You have grown into a beautiful, poised young lady. We are so proud of you and all you have accomplished. We have been through a lot; sickness and health, good times and bad. But the best is yet to come.

*Love,

From the cradle of the beginning, to the stage of the future, climb to the threshold of your own beliefs; not with the statements of others, but with the footsteps of your own existence. Do not exclude yourself . . . for you possess precious moments, beautiful attitudes and personalities, wonderful talents yet to unfold, majestic discoveries . . . for these are jewels placed in the crown of your destiny.

Congratulations, and may you achieve any goal you desire.

There were so many times we had
That not many people can understand
We shared so many secret thoughts
We shared our good times and our bad
When we were small
The world seemed so new and bright
We have grown up since then
And know sometimes that's not right Remember all the funny things we did
That we never told anyone about
Remember some things we did
That we should have been griped out
Don't forget the fun we had in flags
Practicing at the first morning light
Working our tails off for hours
And sometimes until late at night

It seems so strange now
That we're really going to say goodbye
Especially when for 12 years
We've had each other to stand by
It's going to be hard at first
But we can't be sad
We'll just have to grin and bear it
And just think of what we still have
A friendship like ours
Is worth more than anything I'm told
And we'll keep it going strong Because it's worth more to us than gold
Even though it's time
For our new lives to begin
I know that we'll never forget each other — Because we'll always be BEST FRIENDS

IF

*If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise; ...
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And-which is more-you'll be a man, my son!*

*Brian,
Thank you for being such a good friend as well as a loving and considerate son. We have enjoyed these years with you and your friends. You have always made us proud and we love you dearly. Our prayers for God's blessings are with you. Congratulations for a job well done!*

*Love,

*"Thank Heaven For Little Girls"
What else is there to say ...
We're simply delighted you came our way.
How you have brightened each and every day;
You are very "SPECIAL" to us,
And we love you very, very much!
And hope the "Best of Everything" will come your way!!*

*Love always,

*There must something special planned
In this full life God chose
For ev'rything you seem to do
Is fraught with trials and woes.
The way seems tough, the vision dim
But through it all you know
That every step is led by God
As toward His throne you go.
You are a man - a fine one, too
Who cares and watches and feels
When people hurt and cry inside-
His gift no longer concealed-
A life of finding and spreading joy
As acting and poems employ.*

WE STUCK TOGETHER & We Made It!

This year's accomplishments of our school system have been tremendous. There are several new additions. "In terms of some of the office area being designed, teachers never had adequate space. For example, now the teachers will have more bathrooms and work spaces which they've needed. Students and parents will have a waiting area, which will help in giving a more comfortable area to speak with people in the office", stated Principal Stan Key. Mr. Key also had a comment about our new gym and lockerrooms. He states, "Students have deserved it for a long time. I'm really pleased that the school board and community have supported these new facilities. These new facilities will take on an overall more open feeling".

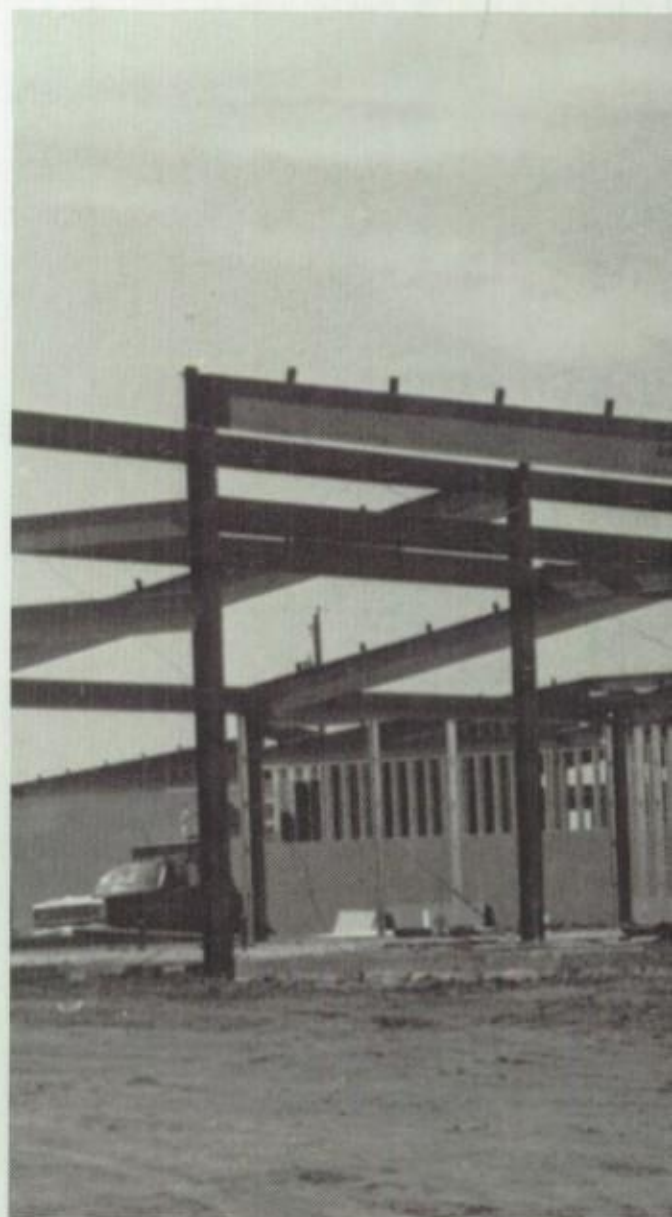

Dr. Monaco, Superintendent, was also excited about the new adjustments. His comments were, "I feel like Lee Iacocca"; "I don't want to be the biggest school district, just the best." He sincerely feels that we have the best teachers and students and now we are getting the best facilities to match. "Just a continuing part of our theme: to achieve excellence", says Dr. Monaco.

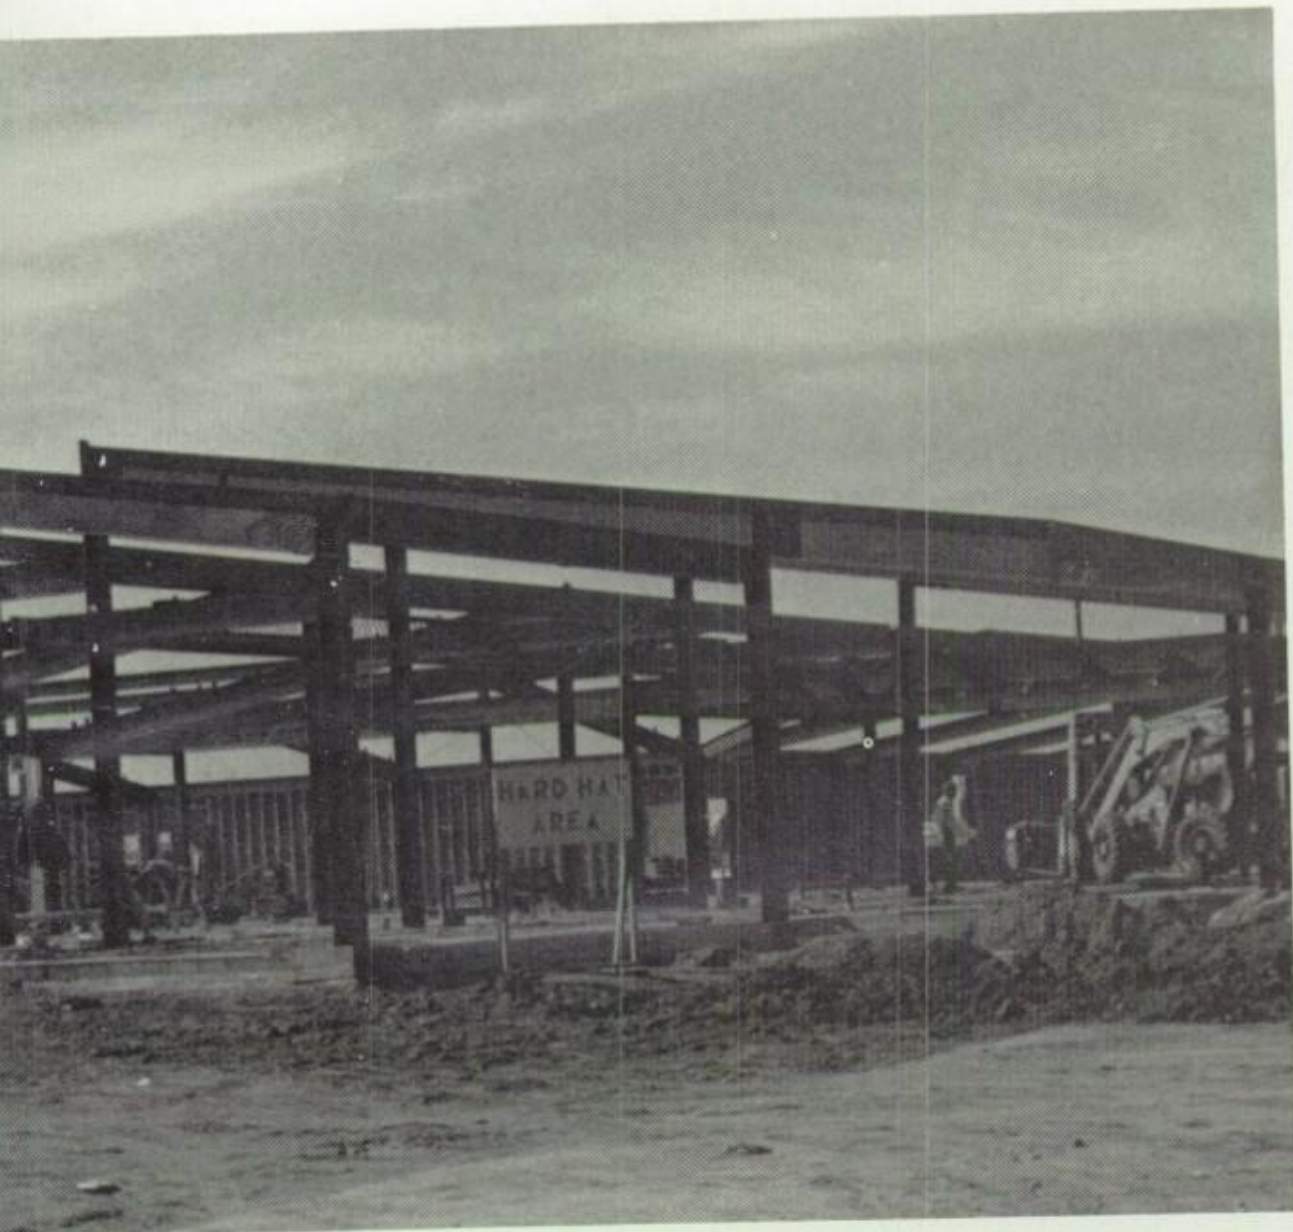

Everyone is excited about our new gym, office area, elementary school, etc. The elementary school will separate us in a sad, but happy, way. Our school has always been together in a family-like way. It's kind of like losing part of your family, but we are actually gaining a new accomplishment to our society which will be all for the best. We stuck together, and we made it!!

The building of our new elementary school is in great progress!

Mr. Key looks excited while thinking about all our new accomplishments.

Our new gym sure does look great! It was all worth it!

Take a look at the new Aubrey High School gym. It's "never" looked better.

LOOKIN' BACK IN THE PAST

Beth Hensley, Anthone McCormick, and Janaca Bryant take a look into the past, "what fun we used to have."

Looking back in the past can be a very sad thing to do. Just thinking about all the times you had with your family and friends. Remembering back when you were the biggest "tom-boy" in the class. Now, you've turned into the sweetest "little princess" or even the meanest "little devil."

The feeling of friendship was always in the air. Friends were everywhere. Anytime someone was hurt or just needed someone there to comfort and protect you, there was always a little friend there to help.

I also remember when the guys used to be allergic to the girls, and vice-versa. Boy has that changed! Now you can't keep them away. They're like flies! It's funny how things like that change. It's also funny to think back so far into your past. Our memories will last forever. They will always be cherished as we look back into our past. The people we know and the acquaintances we had will always stay fresh in our minds.

Katie,
You are a very sweet girl. and I hope you will always stay that. I know you will go far in the future. Good luck in the future & the group.
